ARAFURA SEA.

Victoria shoal unsuccessfully searched for.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 84 of 1891), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

Victoria shoal, charted as lying in approximately lat. 9° 13′ S., long. 131° 25′ E., was searched for during two days under favourable conditions of weather; a quadrilateral area, extending about 10 miles in an east and west direction, with a breadth of about 6 miles, over and around the reported position of the shoal, was sounded, the depths obtained being 120 to 170 fathoms; and no indication of shoal water was observed.

Consequent on this examination, and an examination made by H. M. Surveying Vessel Rambler in 1887, the rock has been removed from the Admiralty Charts, and "Site of Victoria shoal unsuccessfully searched for" has been placed near the position.

SERWATTI ISLANDS.

Particulars of Brisbane island.

Brisbane island (apparently lying near the south-east edge of an extensive area of shoal ground and scattered islets), with clumps of trees about 115 feet high, extends about 1¼ miles in a north-west and south-east direction, with a breadth of about 4 cables; a coral reef, drying at low water, with a narrow opening for small vessels about 3 miles northward of the island, fringes it seaward to a distance of about 5 cables; a small islet, with bushes 10 to 15 feet high, lies about 6 cables south-west of the island.

The south extreme of Brisbane island, which may be recognized by a conspicuous bush, was determined by reliable observations on board the Egeria, to be situated in lat. 8° 21′ S., long. 128° 30′ E.

EASTERN ARCHIPELAGO.

Position of Emma rocks or bank.

Emma rocks, charted as lying in lat. 7° 51′ S., long. 117° 19′ E., were sighted at the distance of about 5 miles, and appeared as a sandbank. The approximate position, deduced from astronomical observations on board the Egeria, is lat. 7° 54′ S., long. 117° 16′ E., or about 4 miles south-west of that previously charted.

Consequent on the foregoing, the E. D. near Emma rocks has been removed from the Admiralty Charts.

Non-existence of discoloured water.

The "discoloured water" reported by H.M.S. Salamander in 1867, in lat. 6° 21′ S., long. 112° 19′ E., was passed without being seen: and as it is not shown on the Netherlands Government charts, nor known of by the Naval Authorities at Surabaya, it has been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

CARIMATA STRAIT APPROACH.

Hector bank, Stephan reef, and Emerald shoal unsuccessfully searched for.

Hector bank (lat. 3° 46′ S., long 110° 7′ E.), Stephan reef (lat. 3° 6′ S., long. 109° 16′ E.), and Emerald shoal (lat. 1° 0′ S., long. 107° 3′ E.) were searched for unsuccessfully, but, considering the circumstances of the original reports, and the small size of many known dangers in these waters, they are all retained on Admiralty charts.

New survey—Entrance to North or Howe Channel.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 3 of 1891) that the south-east extreme of the North banks has grown to the eastward about one-third of a mile, and a small sand patch, with only 18 feet on it at low-water ordinary spring tides, and extending 2 cables S.E. by E. and N.W. by W., has been discovered about a cable to the westward of the line of leading lights. Cape Moreton light-house bears from this patch S.E. by E. ½ E. easterly.

Vessels using the North Channel must therefore be careful not to get to the westward of the line of leading lights when nearing this danger.

Discontinuance of Fort Zelandia light, and exhibition of Amping light.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 91 of 1891) that on 3rd November 1890, Fort Zelandia light was discontinued; and that on the same date a new light, to be known as Amping light, was exhibited from an iron frame mast, painted white, erected about 340 yards in a N.W by W. direction from the large tree in Fort Zelandia:—

Amping light is a fixed white light, visible from the bearing of S. 38° W., through east, to N. 51° W, elevated 32 feet above the sea, and should be seen in clear weather from a distance of 10 miles.

The illuminating apparatus is dioptric, or by lenses of the sixth order.

Approximate position on Admiralty Charts: lat. 23° 0′ 25″ N., long. 120° 9′ 50″ E.

NOTE.—During the north-east monsoon vessels may anchor in 5½ to 6 fathoms, with Amping light bearing between N E. ½ E. and N.E. by E. ¼ E. During the south-west monsoon the best anchorage will be found in 6 to 7 fathoms, with the light bearing about N.E. ½ N.

Non-existence of shoal reported to extend off Laeloa or Barber Point.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 565 of 1890, that a shoal had been reported to extend a considerable distance southward of Laeloa or Barber point, the south-west extreme off Oahu, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 92 of 1891) that the following information has been received from Commander C. T. Turner, H.M.S. Nymphe, the result of recent examinations made of the locality:—

On 29th November 1890, from a position about 4 miles southward of Laeloa or Barber point, the Nymphe steered towards the light-house on that point, with look-outs on deck and aloft; the day was bright with a moderate southerly swell, and any danger would have been seen to break; the lead gave no bottom at 80 and 70 fathoms until the light-house bore N. ¾ W., distant about 2 miles, when a depth of 85 fathoms (sand and coral) was obtained; with the light-house on nearly the same bearing and distant about 1½ miles the water shoaled quickly to about 14 fathoms; and to 5 and 3 fathoms at the distances of one mile and 7 cables respectively; other soundings extending about 1¼ miles both northward and eastward of the point gave similar depths at a somewhat less distance from the land.

On 2nd December further examination was made in the Nymphe and her steam cutter, when although there was no wind and only a slight swell, the surf broke in about 3 fathoms; from the sudden shoaling, the sea probably breaks in much deeper water with southerly gales. The edge of the shoal ground, about 1¾ miles southward of Barber point, and in about the depth of 20 fathoms, is well marked by change in the colour of the water; the point itself is very low.

Consequent on this examination, the Cautionary note:—"A shoal is reported to extend off Barber point," has been removed from the Admiralty Chart.

Kudat harbour entrance—Intended fixed light on Sandilands rock.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 100 of 1891), is republished:—

Information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander E. Rason, H.M.S. Plover, dated 13th January 1891, that a light-house is in course of construction on Sandilands rock, Kudat harbour entrance, and from which a light will shortly be exhibited:—

Sandilands rock light will be a fixed light, showing sectors of white and red light, elevated 7 feet above high water, and should be visible in clear weather from a distance of about 6 miles.

The light-house, erected on piles, will be about 10 feet high.

Approximate position: lat. 6° 52′ 20″ N., long. 116° 52′ 5″ E.

Also, that on the exhibition of Sandilands rock light the fixed white light on the fort at Kudat will be discontinued, and the fixed red light on the jetty will be so screened, that on its becoming obscured when entering the harbour, the course may be altered towards the jetty on the bearing the light was lost sight of.

Less depths found on Quetta and Mid rocks.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 139, dated the 22nd September 1890, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 71 of 1891) that in consequence of a minute search in the course of a resurvey of the vicinity it has been found that Quetta rock has a depth of 9 feet over it at low water spring tides, instead of 2¼ fathoms as hitherto charted.

PORT REFUGE—Coral patch on south side of entrance.

THE following Notice to Mariners, issued by the British Admiralty (No. 76 of 1891), is republished:—

Information has been received from the Naval Commander in Chief on the China station that H. M. S. Redpole, drawing 13 feet, touched on and passed over some branch coral on the south side of entrance to port Refuge, lying with the west extreme of Direction island bearing N.E. ½ N., and the centre of Workhouse island E. by N., distant 1 1/10 miles.

Approximate position, lat. 12° 6′ S., long. 96° 52′ 25″E.

As it is probable that the coral on which the Redpole touched is connected with the reef southward of it, the danger line on the Chart and Plan has been extended outwards encircling the position.

NOTE.—The channels between the reefs in port Refuge are overgrown with a dark weed, which gives the bottom the appearance of coral, even when it is sand. The wreck of an iron vessel (very conspicuous) lies on the reef on the western side of the entrance with the centre of Workhouse island bearing E. ⅛ S., distant 1 7/10 miles. It is stated also, on local authority, that coral heads with only a few feet water on them exist on the reefs both northward and southward of the port.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT IN HOWRAH FOR 1889-90.

The following report is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

THE JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1889-90.

I have the honour to report on the working of the Licensed Warehouses and Fire-Brigade Act in this Municipality for the official year ending 31st March 1890.

There were 36 warehouses licensed during the year for the storage of jute, cotton and other fibres. This shows an increase of 6 from the preceding year, owing to some of the jute-dealers having brought over quantities of jute from Calcutta for the purpose of drying it on the chur lands and storing it here.

A classified list of warehouses which were licensed during the year is given in Appendix I. There were no new warehouses established during the year, but one was in course of construction.

The total receipts amounted to Rs. 6,500 from licenses, as there were no fines. Thus there has been an increase of Rs. 650 over that of the preceding year.

The expenditure on the inspection of jute warehouses amounted to—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Salary of Inspector	840	0	0
Contingencies	179	15	3
Total ...	1,019	15	3

The Fire-Brigade is under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, the same as last year, and the Brigade was removed during the year to its new quarters specially built for the purpose by the Commissioner of Police, the land being made over by the Commissioners. It is well adapted for a fire-brigade station, being an eligible site.

There were only 7 fires during the year, confined only to huts of little value. There were no fires, I am glad to say, in any of the jute mills. A statement showing the particulars of fires is given in Appendix II.

The following is the expenditure incurred during the year, irrespective of the amount expended by the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta:—

	Rs.
Rent of fire-brigade station for four months	240
50 per cent. paid to the Commissioner of Police ...	20
Total ...	260

Chairman.

Explanation.—.....indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 31st March 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 28TH OF MARCH 1891.

At the close of the previous week weather conditions over Bengal were decidedly disturbed over the southern and south-western districts, and rain accompanying local thunderstorms had fallen at most of the stations in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur and at a few in Orissa and East Bengal. On the 22nd pressure had risen rapidly in the north and east of the province, while in the south-western districts it had risen only very slowly, and a distinct area of low pressure had formed which stretched from the south of Behar through part of Chutia Nagpur and South-West Bengal into Orissa, and there was a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation of winds round the low-pressure area. Weather was therefore again disturbed on this day, and fairly general rain was reported on the morning of the 23rd from South-West Bengal, while showers also occurred in Chutia Nagpur and East Bengal. On the 23rd the area of lowest pressure had moved in an easterly direction and was in Central Bengal, and there was again a feeble tendency to wind circulation round a centre near Berhampore, and again on the 24th fairly general rain was reported in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, while showers also fell in several other divisions. The 24th was again a day of very disturbed conditions; pressure had fallen in South-East Bengal and in Arakan and Burma, while it rose rapidly in Central Bengal, so that the area of low pressure had travelled in a south-easterly direction towards the north-east angle of the Bay. On the morning of the 25th again general rain was reported from South-West Bengal and the neighbouring districts of Orissa, while showers occurred in East Bengal. By the morning of the 25th the low-pressure area had advanced over Burma, and conditions began to improve in Bengal, so that beyond a few scattered showers, no rain was reported on the 26th. The low pressure over Burma and the decidedly high pressure over Bengal and Behar generally, continued strongly marked on the 26th, and remained unchanged up to the close of the week, so that for the last three days a fairly steady westerly and north-westerly wind current was blowing in Bengal, skies cleared rapidly, rainfall entirely ceased, humidity began to decrease rapidly, and generally fine settled weather obtained.

Pressure.—The general mean pressure for the week has been decidedly in excess of the normal, the usual excess ranging from about seven to nine hundredths of an inch. The excess has been generally largest in Behar, where at several stations it exceeds a tenth of an inch.

Temperature.—Owing to the disturbed conditions which have again given moderate rain, temperature was very decidedly below the normal during the first half of the week, and on the 24th and 25th the mean temperatures were generally from 5° to 14° and even 17° below the normal for the period, and on the latter day defects of about 14° and upwards were recorded at Calcutta, Burdwan, Krishnagore, Bankoora, Ranchee, Chyebassa, and Midnapur. For the second half of the week temperature has been rising rapidly, and on the 28th the mean temperature of the province was not more than about half to one degree below the normal except in Chutia Nagpur, where the defect was comparatively large. For the whole week the mean temperature of the province has been 4·4° below the normal, but the defects in the various divisions have ranged from 2·8° in East Bengal to 6·5° in Chutia Nagpur.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variation from their normal values are best shown in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values for the period. The day or maximum temperatures have again shown a larger variation from the normal than the night or minimum temperatures:—

Rainfall—Has been heaviest in South-West Bengal andChutia Nagpur, which have received an average amount of about half an inch; in Orissa, East Bengal, and South Behar the falls have averaged about a quarter of an inch; while North Bengal and North Behar have been almo-t rainless. In South-West Bengal th: falls have been heaviest in the Midnapur and Bankoora districts, and in Chutia Nagpur the falls have been heavy in Singbhoom and Lohardugga districts and comparatively light elsewhere.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—(No. 53).

Arafura sea.

Victoria shoal unsuccessfully searched for.

The following Notice to Mariners (No. 84 of 1891), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished :—

Victoria shoal, charted as lying in approximately lat. 9° 13′ S., long. 131° 25′ E, was searched for during two days under favourable conditions of weather; a quadrilateral area, extending about 10 miles in an east and west direction, with a breadth of about 6 miles, over and around the reported position of the shoal, was sounded, the depths obtained being 120 to 170 fathoms; and no indication of shoal water was observed.

Consequent on this examination, and an examination made by H. M. Surveying Vessel Rambler in 1887, the rock has been removed from the Admiralty Charts, and "Site of Victoria shoal unsuccessfully searched for" has been placed near the position.

Serwatti islands.

Particulars of Brisbane island.

Brisbane island (apparently lying near the south-east edge of an extensive area of shoal ground and scattered islets), with clumps of trees about 115 feet high, extends about 1¼ miles in a north-west and south-east direction, with a breadth of about 4 cables; a coral reef, drying at low water, with a narrow opening for small vessels about 3 miles northward of the island, fringes it seaward to a distance of about 5 cables; a small islet, with bushes 10 to 15 feet high, lies about 6 cables south-west of the island.

The south extreme of Brisbane island, which may be recognized by a conspicuous bush, was determined by reliable observations on board the Egeria, to be situated in lat. 8° 21′ S., long. 128° 30′ E.

Eastern archipelago.

Position of Emma rocks or bank.

Emma rocks, charted as lying in lat 7° 51′ S., long. 117° 19′ E., were sighted at the distance of about 5 miles, and appeared as a sandbank. The approximate position, deduced from astronomical observations on board the Egeria, is lat. 7° 54′ S, long. 117° 16′ E., or about 4 miles south-west of that previously charted.

Consequent on the foregoing, the E. D. near Emma rocks has been removed from the Admiralty Charts.

Non-existence of discoloured water.

The "discoloured water" reported by H.M.S. Salamander in 1867, in lat. 6° 21′ S., long. 112° 19′ E., was passed without being seen: and as it is not shown on the Netherlands Government charts, nor known of by the Naval Authorities at Surabaya, it has been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Carimata strait approach.

Hector bank, Stephan reef, and Emerald shoal unsuccessfully searched for.

Hector bank (lat. 3° 46′ S., long 110° 7′ E.), Stephan reef (lat. 3° 6′ S, long. 109° 16′ E.), and Emerald shoal (lat. 1° 0′ S., long. 107° 3′ E.) were searched for unsuccessfully, but, considering the circumstances of the original reports, and the small size of many known dangers in these waters, they are all retained on Admiralty charts.

MORETON BAY.

New survey—Entrance to North or Howe Channel.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 3 of 1891) that the south-east extreme of the North banks has grown to the eastward about one-third of a mile, and a small sand patch, with only 18 feet on it at low-water ordinary spring tides, and extending 2 cables S.E. by E. and N.W. by W., has been discovered about a cable to the westward of the line of leading lights. Cape Moreton light-house bears from this patch S.E. by E. ½ E. easterly.

Vessels using the North Channel must therefore be careful not to get to the westward of the line of leading lights when nearing this danger.

CALCUTTA, the 7th April 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 4TH OF APRIL 1891.

A DISTINCT change of meteorological conditions had taken place in Bengal in the second half of the previous week, and the disturbed conditions, with rain in various districts, which had existed for the greater part of March, had practically passed away. A low-pressure area which had travelled from Bengal into Burma still existed, and at the commencement of the present week the distribution of pressure was decidedly abnormal, for it was considerably above the average over the greater part of Bengal, and almost equally below it in Burma. With this unusual distribution of pressure a steady north-westerly and westerly current was blowing at almost all stations, and fine weather with steadily increasing temperature obtained, while at the same time humidity was decidedly low. These conditions continued practically unaltered up till April 2nd, when pressure began to fall decidedly more rapidly in Bengal than in Burma, a similar fall occurring on the 3rd; while on the 4th pressure had risen by about more than a twentieth of an inch in Burma, though it was still falling in Bengal, and by the close of the week, though pressure was a little below the normal, yet the defects in Bengal and Burma were nearly of equal amount, and the general distribution was therefore fairly normal. With this distribution of pressure the northerly element in the wind directions almost disappeared, and on April 4th westerly and south-westerly winds were reported at the majority of stations, while in East Bengal southerly and south-easterly winds were blowing. At the close of the week therefore conditions were about normal for the hot weather.

Pressure—Was above the normal during the greater part of the week, and the mean pressure has usually been above the average by about three to five-hundredths of an inch. The excess has been generally smallest in Orissa and largest in South Behar.

Temperature—Was largely below the normal at the commencement of the week, but from the 31st March a steady increase set in, the daily increase in the mean temperature equalling about one degree up to April 3rd, when on this day and the 4th the daily increase varied from about 2° to 4°. Notwithstanding this rapid increase, the mean temperature for the week has again been very considerably below the normal, and the general average for Bengal shows a defect of 4·1°. The defects have been fairly equal except in Orissa, where temperature has been nearly normal, while on the other hand a defect of 6·3° has been recorded in East Bengal. The highest maximum temperature registered in the province during the week was 103·4° at Cuttack on April 4th.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variation from their normal values are best shown in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures for the week at nine typical stations in different districts of the province are compared with their normal values. During the present week both day and night temperatures have been both largely and almost equally in defect:—

Rainfall.—Beyond one or two isolated showers in Orissa in the early part of the week, which were of no importance, the whole province has been rainless during the period.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·0° lower; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

Monthly statistics of deaths registered in forty-five districts of Bengal for the month of January 1891.

THE total number of deaths registered during the month of January 1891 in the districts of Bengal amounted to 143,492, against 205,387 in the preceding month, 124,646 in January 1890, and an average of 131,617 in the corresponding months of the previous five years (1886—90). These figures correspond to annual death-rates of 26·01, 37·32, 22·68 and 23·88 per 1,000, respectively, of the aggregate population of those districts, which is 65,859,534. The death-rate of January 1891 is 2·16 higher than the mean rate of the corresponding months of the past five years 1886—90, and is also higher than the rate of the corresponding period of any of the past five years except 1887, vide the figures below:—

	January 1886.	January 1887.	January 1888.	January 1889.	January 1890.	Monthly average of five years 1886—90.	January 1891.
Ratio of deaths per 1,000 of the population per annum	22·20	26·88	25·08	22·93	22·68	23·88	26·04

Of the total deaths, 75,542 (ratio 27·72 per 1,000) occurred among the male population and 67,950 (ratio 24·48 per 1,000) among the female. As usual, the registered results were, on the whole, greater among the male than among the female population. Relatively 113 males died to every 100 females, calculated on the proportion such mortality bears to the total male and female population.

The following table shows the highest proportions of deaths registered during the month of January 1891, arranged in order of sequence and compared with the mortality of the corresponding month of 1890:—

The total mortality during the month under review from the several registered death-causes is compared in the following table with the mortality from those causes in the corresponding month of 1890 and the average of the five years 1886—90:—

	Ratio per mille during—
	Jany. 1891.	Jany. 1890.	Monthly average of five years 1886—90.
Cholera	2·76	1·02	1·68

Dysentery and Diarrhœa	·60	·72	·84
Injury	·12	·12	·12
Other causes	3 96	3·48	3 00

The mortality of January 1891 under the heads cholera, small-pox, fever and other causes shows an increase over the mortality from these causes of the two past periods with which it is compared.

The highest annual death-rates from cholera, fever, and other causes occurred in the following districts:—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.

The mortality from small-pox was high only in the district of Midnapore, where the mortality reached 1·20 per 1,000 of population.

The following table shows the death-rates among the five principal classes which comprise the population of the Bengal Province, viz, Mahomedans, Hindus, Christians, Buddhists and other classes, arranged in order of sequence and compared with the mortality among these classes in corresponding month of 1890 : —

	Ratio per mille during—
	Jany. 1891.	Jany. 1890.
Mahomedans	30·60	26·52
Hindus	24·24	21·12
Christians	20·64	15·96
Buddhists	18·84	27·72
Other classes	16·08	12·96

With regard to Age, infants as usual perished in the largest numbers, 192·36 per 1,000 of population per annum; next came old persons (60 years and upwards) with a death-rate of 72·72 per 1,000. The lowest death-rate occurred between the ages of 10 and under 15 years, 11·28 per 1,000.

Detailed information regarding the mortuary statistics of the forty-five districts of Bengal during the month under review will be found in the statement appended.

STATISTICS AND COMMERCE.
CUSTOMS.

The 6th April 1891.

No. 1430.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 19A, sub-section (2), of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (as amended by section 11 of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889), and sections 19 and 20 of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889 (as amended by Act IX of 1891), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to make the subjoined rules and orders:

1. Piece-goods, such as are ordinarily sold by length or by the piece, shall be deemed to include woollen goods of all kinds and the undermentioned descriptions of cotton goods, namely :—

Cambrics.	Longcloths,
Checks, spots, and stripes.	Madapollams.
Chudders.	Mulls.
Chudder Dhooties.	Muslins.
Dhooties.	Nainsooks.
Domestics.	Printers.
Doorias.	Prints.
Drills.	Sarries.
Jaconets.	Scarves (Eklai).
Jeans.	Sheetings.
Lappets.	Shirtings.
Lawns.	Tanjibs.
Lenos.	Twills.

T Cloths and Mexicans.

2. Other classes of piece-goods shall not be detained if unstamped; and unstamped cotton and woollen piece-goods imported for private and personal use and not intended for sale shall not be detained if the Customs Collector is satisfied that they are actually not intended for sale.

3. Examinations of packages to ascertain whether the goods mentioned in rule 1 are stamped shall be made at frequent intervals, at the discretion of the Customs Collector, and either under his personal instructions, or under general orders and instructions given by him to an Assistant Collector.

4. The piece-goods contained in the packages so examined need not be examined when found to be stamped to test the accuracy of the stamping, except on information received, or when the Customs Collector has reason to suspect that the stamping is false.

5. All measurements of piece-goods shall be made on the table.

6. Yarns need not be examined or measured except on information received, or when the Collector has reason to suspect that the trade-description is false.

7. An examination of yarns to test the accuracy of the description of count or length shall be made in the first instance up to the limit of one bundle in the consignment.

8. If on such examination the difference between the average count or length and the described count or length is in excess of the variations permitted in paragraphs III and IV of the Notification in the Home Department, No. 1738 (Judicial), dated the 4th December 1890, the importer may require a further examination to be made up to the limit stated in rule 9.

9. The test to determine count and length of yarns shall be applied as follows :—

One bundle should be taken from any bale in the consignment, and each knot in the bundle weighed. From the knots so weighed should be selected the heaviest knot, the lightest knot, and the knot which approaches most closely to the standard weight of a knot of yarn of the particular count under examination.

[By standard weight is meant the weight which the knot of yarn of the described count should be if the length of the hank is correct, e.g. a knot of No. 20 of ten kanks to the knot should weigh eight ounces.]

The heaviest knot should then be selected from the knots so weighed, and each hank in it weighed, the heaviest and lightest hank, and also the hank which approximates most closely to the standard weight, being selected. This process should be repeated with the other two weighed knots.

There will then be nine hanks to be dealt with, three from each of the three knots weighed.

These nine hanks should then be tested on the wrap-reel. Rocky patch on north side of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands, and existence of sunken rock in centre of channel, doubtful.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 108 of 1891), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information :—

Information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander E. Rason, H. M. S. Plover, dated 19th January 1891, of the existence of a rocky patch, lying on the north side of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands.

The rocky patch on the north side of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands is about one cable in extent, and consists of three pinnacles, which dry 2 feet at low water spring tides, and have 1¾ to 2 fathoms between them, with 3¼ and 7 fathoms near its southern edge. It lies on the 5-fathoms line as heretofore charted (and which now has been extended southward of the rocky patch the distance of about one cable), with Kiamsan point, Labúan, bearing N. N. E. ¼ E., distant 6½ cables, and Burong islet E. ½ S.

Approximate position, lat. 5° 14′ 40″ N, long. 115° 8′ 40″ E.

Also that soundings taken in the vicinity of the sunken rock, on which the P. and O. steam-vessel Formosa is stated to have struck in 1856, and charted as lying in the centre of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands, or in approximately lat. 5° 14′ 25″ N., long. 115° 8′ 20″ E., gave a depth of 33 fathoms at the distance of 1 cable eastward of the reported position, the depth gradually increasing to 40 fathoms about 2⅓ cables southward of it. The existence of this rock therefore seems doubtful, and E. D. has been placed against it on the Admiralty Charts.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Shoals on eastern coasts of Masbate and Tayapula islands.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 109 of 1891) of the existence of the undermentioned shoals lying on the eastern coasts of Masbate and Tagapula islands, Philippine islands :—

1. A ledge of sand and rocks extends from Badlai islet, east side of entrance to port Kataingan towards Bugtun island for a distance of 1½ miles, with a breadth of 2¾ cables ; the depths on the outer end of the ledge are 19 to 26 feet, but nearer Badlai islet for the distance of about 5½ cables there are several rocks with 3 to 10 feet water on them.

Approximate position of south extreme : lat. 11° 55′ N., long. 124° 4′ E.

2. Bugtun island, southward of port Kataingan, has no shoal ground extending from its coasts at a greater distance than about one cable.

3. A sandbank extends from Balanguingue island, southward of port Kataingan, towards Bugtun island for a distance of 4½ cables. Near the centre of the narrow channel between these two islands there is a shoal of small extent with 8 fathoms water on it.

4. Shoal ground does not extend to a greater distance than about one cable from Matayon point. Approximate position : lat. 11° 59′ N., long. 124° 3′ E.

5. A shoal composed of coral and stones, and extending about 5 cables in a north and south direction, with a breadth of about 1½ cables, and having 9 feet (the least found) water on it, lies with the eastern extreme of Tagapula island bearing about S.W., distant one mile. Southward of the shoal the water deepens quickly to about 20 fathoms.

Approximate position : lat. 12° 6′ N., long. 124° 16′ E.

Kaipara harbour—New leading beacons at entrance.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 104, dated the 29th July 1890, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 114 of 1891) that the undermentioned beacons, recently erected on North head and its slopes, are now the leading marks for the entrance to Kaipara harbour :—

The upper beacon on North head, painted black, bears from North head light-house N. by W. ½ W., distant about 1,100 yards ; the middle beacon on North head, painted white, bears from the light-house W. ¾ N., distant about 1,000 yards ; and the lower beacon on a low hill, North sand spit, painted white, bears from the light-house S. W. by W., distant about 2,400 yards.

Two smaller beacons, painted black, are situated on the slope of North head, eastward of the light-house ; the north-eastern bears from the light-house E. ½ N., distant about 950 yards ; the south-western bears from the light-house E. by S. ¼ S., distant about 700 yards.

DIRECTIONS.—The three first-mentioned beacons kept in line, bearing N. E. ¾ N., lead from seaward through Galatea channel (with 5 fathoms at low water on the Outer bar the least depth), until between North sand spit and Tory shoal ; the two smaller beacons on the slope of North head will then be seen ; and when these are brought in line, bearing N. E. ¾ E., the vessel will be well clear of the northern edge of Tory shoal, and a course may be steered along the land till abreast the light-house, paying attention to any directions given from the signal station near the light-house.

NOTE.—The light-house, now painted white, is no longer a leading mark for entering Kaipara harbour.

Posts and lights marking telegraph cables.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 127 of 1891) that the line of telegraph cables laid between the Cable house situated about 450 yards south-west of North point, Hongkong, and the Cable house situated about 85 yards southward of the battery on the south-east point of Kaulung peninsula, is now marked by four white posts (two on each side), from which are exhibited red lights at night. No vessels of any description are to anchor within the area indicated by these four posts and lights.

The lights are so screened that the easternmost lights are obscured eastward, and the westernmost lights westward, of the prohibited area ; when therefore the two lights on the same side are visible at the same time, vessels must proceed until one or other of the lights is obscured, before anchoring.

The posts are further distinguished during the day by a red diamond below the lantern.

OUTTURN OF RABI AND SPECIAL CROPS.

THE following report and annexures are published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,
AGRICULTURE;
The 14th April 1891.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Outturn of rabi and special crops in Bengal for the year 1890-91.

Rabi crops.—The climatic conditions most favourable to the rabi crops in Bengal and Behar are when monsoon rains cease in the beginning of October, but are followed by a few light showers in the latter half of October and the first fortnight of November. A little rain is also wanted in December and January to enable the plants to attain their full development During the harvesting season in the latter half of February and March, the weather should be fine and dry, as heavy rain during this period, especially when accompanied by hail and storm, causes considerable damage to the ripening crops.

In the rabi season which has just expired the conditions were unfavourable in the greater part of Bengal and Behar. The late subsidence of the floods of the last rainy season retarded the sowing, and so affected the outturn in the subdivisions of Bongong, Jungipore, Goalundo, Purneah, and Brahmanberia. Excess of rain in October also retarded the sowings in some parts of the Lower Provinces, while deficiency of rain in December and January impeded the full development of the plants in South-West and East Bengal. Locusts damaged the rabi crops in the districts of Burdwan, Bankura, Midnapore, Howrah, 24-Pergunnahs, Khulna, Rungpore, Bogra, and the Chittagong Hill Tracts, and hailstorms did much injury in Bogra, Gaya, Nowada, Sasseram, Purneah, and Giridi. March rains, which were quite abnormal, seriously affected the outturn by injuring the crops as they were about to be or were being harvested. The damage due to this cause was general throughout Bengal, the only districts which are not reported to have suffered in this respect being Khulna, 24-Pergunnahs, Dinagepore, Rungpore, Bogra, Darjeeling, Julpigoree, Mymensingh, Tipperah, Chittagong, Chittagong Hill Tracts, and Singbhoom. On the other hand, deposit of silt left by the floods of last year proved beneficial in the districts of Bogra and Maldah, and in the subdivisions of Narail, Nowgong, Kishoreganj, and Mozufferpore.

In the Lower Provinces as a whole, the outturn of the rabi crops may be estimated at 10 to 11 annas.

SPECIAL CROPS: Sugarcane.—Excess of rain in June, July and August proved more or less injurious to the sugarcane crop in Behar, particularly in the subdivisions of Sasseram Gaya, Sewan, Gopalganj, Bhagulpore, and Kissenganj, where the damage due to this cause may be estimated at five annas.

Floods during the last rainy season seriously affected the outturn in the subdivision of Kushtea in the Nuddea district, and in Bongong in the district of Jessore.

In the month of October damage was done from an excess of rain in the district of Bankura, and from high floods in the district of Bogra.

An average crop is reported from the following subdivisions:—Kandi, Rungpore, Kurigram, Brahmanberia, Chittagong, Behar, Nawada, Sarun, Chumparun, Purneah, Banki, Tajpore, and Kolhan (Pergunnah).

Tobacco.—Injury was done to the tobacco crop by the rainfall in March, which affected the outturn in the districts of Hooghly, Bankoora, Rajshahye, Backerganj, Maldah, Purneah, Mozufferpore, Durbungah, Manbhoom, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. The loss from this cause in these districts may be estimated at 2 annas. A full average crop is reported for the districts of Rungpore, Patna, and Chittagong, and for some subdivisions in Jessore, Tipperah, Sarun, Cuttack, and Singbhoom.

Mulberry.—The yield of this crop is reported to be very good. While three-fourths of an average crop has been estimated for in the districts of Midnapore, Beerbhoom, and Rajshahye, an 18-anna crop is expected at Bogra, and a bumper crop in Maldah.

Poppy.—Rain accompanied by hail and storm in the months of January, February and March proved injurious to poppy. A full average crop is reported for Barh and Behar in the district of Patna, and for Jamui in the district of Monghyr, but the general outturn in the poppy-growing districts is below the average, being estimated only at 11 annas.

M. FINUCANE,

Director of the Dept. of Land Records, and Agriculture, Bengal.

Some injury was also done to the crops by locusts: hence the outturn of this year is low. The short outturn of last year was, however, due to the excessive rain of November.	The heavy rainfal on the 23rd of February must have also injured the crop.

Owing to the excessive rainfall in November 1889, the rubbee crops of last year suffered a good deal.	For the Sudder sub-division no deficiency of rain is shown in the rainfall records at sowing time. The low outturn may be attributed to the want of rain in December and January

The excessive rain of February must have also affected the outturn
	Ghattal	566	228	10	Pulses ...	12 ,,	7 ,,	On the 15th and 23rd November last, flights of locusts came into the Ghatal subdivision and destroyed much of the rubbee crops this year.

The continual heavy fall of rain in the middle of October last (the sowing season) damaged the crop a good deal, especially brinjals and other vegetables. Last year's crop suffered a good deal from the excessive rainfall in November 1889.

The Collector's remarks not borne out by the rainfall records. At the commencement of the season the conditions of rainfall were similar in all the sub-divisions of the Nuddea district, none of which could have suffered to any great extent for want of rain. The crops in the Sudder and Chuadanga sub-divisions must have suffered from excessive rain in the third week of February. The low outturn for the Ranaghat sub-division is not intelligible. The returns do not appear to have been carefully examined.

The floods of the year not receding fast, a portion of the land annually sown with rubbee crops either remained under water at the sowing time or was too moist to be properly tilled. This, coupled with the cessation of rain since the latter end of October has greatly affected the outturn of the rubbee crops. (a) Heavy rainfall in November hardened the soil and damaged the seeds sown. (d). Destroyed by the floods

	Narail	487	293	20	Peas	10 ,,	7 ,,	In the current year, for want of rain, the crops could not come up to 16 annas. The deposits of silt in consequence of the floods and excessive night dews made up, to a great extent, the deficiency of rainfall. In the previous year the unusual rainfall in November destroyed the greater portion of the rubbee crop.	The silt deposits left by the flood helped to increase the outturn this year, which would probably have come up to 16 annas for all crops but for the deficiency of rain after October followed by heavy showers in February.

Excessive rainfall in October must have seriously affected the sugarcane crop, and by injuring the capsules when they were almost ready for harvesting, decreased the outturn also of the cotton crop.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH 1891.

THE meteorological conditions which obtained in March have been of a most unusual character. Almost throughout the whole month, instead of the fine settled weather, with steadily increasing temperature, with an almost complete absence of rainfall, absence of cloud and less humidity which generally obtains, weather was in a more or less disturbed condition, rain was general on many days in the month, and in several cases very heavy, skies were rather heavily clouded, the air was very damp, and temperature was abnormally low.

The principal features in the meteorology of the month stated concisely have been:—

1. The mean pressure over the province of Bengal has been in excess of the normal by moderate amounts, the usual excess averaging about three or four-hundredths of an inch; but while there has been this considerable excess at the stations in the plains, the pressure of the higher layers of the atmosphere as represented by the station of Darjeeling has been in distinct defect. In Assam, Dhubri and Silchar have registered excess pressures of one or two-hundredths of an inch, but at Sibsagar there has been a slight defect.

2. Temperature has been largely in defect of the normal throughout the month, the defects in the mean temperature ranging up to as much as six and seven degrees at such stations as Raneegunge, Berhampore, and Ranchee. The defects have been largest in the maximum or day temperatures, and during the second week in the month the average day temperatures at several stations were from ten to twelve degrees lower than usual. For the whole month the mean temperature of the province of Bengal was nearly 4° below the normal, while the average defect at the Assam stations was only 2°.

3. Owing to the unusual character of the weather and the frequent rainfall, humidity was rather largely in excess of the normal in Bengal, and at such stations as Hazaribagh, Purneah, Durbhunga, and Gya, the saturation of the air was about 20 per cent. in excess of the usual amount. The excess in Assam only averaged about 5 per cent.

4. Cloud proportion was largely in excess of the normal in all districts, the excess equalling about 50 per cent. of the normal amount at many stations.

5. Disturbed atmospheric conditions, in most cases connected with feeble barometric depressions, existed for the greater part of the month. A fuller description of these will follow later on.

6. The rainfall generally in Bengal has been largely excessive. It was about six times the normal amount in Behar, about five times the usual quantity in Chutia Nagpur, about four times the normal in Orissa, three times as large as usual in South-West and North Bengal, while in East Bengal it was almost normal in amount, though in very slight defect. In Assam, however, only moderate amounts of rain fell. Up to the 4th of March weather was generally fairly fine and settled, but from the 4th to the 5th a shallow barometric depression formed over the central parts of India and the peninsula, and the general wind directions showed an indraught towards the depression. This at once caused disturbed conditions in Bengal, and from the 5th rain commenced to fall generally in Bengal. On the 7th the depression had drifted partly over Orissa, and on the 9th and 10th a rapid fall of pressure took place over the province, the fall being by decidedly irregular amounts in different districts, so that the disturbed conditions had extended over the whole of the province. On the 11th a very decided barometric depression formed in North-Western India, which had intensified on the 12th, and advanced in a northerly direction, and on this day the changes of pressure in Behar and the general wind directions over the whole of the province were clearly connected with the depression. The small storm afterwards filled up to a considerable extent and apparently passed away in an easterly direction along the line of the hills or in the hills themselves. Almost throughout the second week of March, therefore, very disturbed conditions existed over Bengal, and local storms with high winds and heavy rain were of frequent occurrence in many districts. Conditions then began to improve slowly up to the 18th, when again they began to revert to their former disturbed state, the disturbance apparently commencing in the hills and in the higher strata of the atmosphere, as indicated by the rapid meteorological changes at Darjeeling, and by a gale of wind which was blowing at this station. Later on, on the 22nd, a distinct area of low pressure had formed, which stretched from the south of Behar, through part of Chutia Nagpur and South-West Bengal, into Orissa. On the 23rd this had moved in an easterly direction, and was in Central Bengal, and there was a tendency to a cyclonic circulation of winds round a centre near Berhampore. On the 24th the area of low pressure had travelled in a south-easterly direction towards the north-east angle of the Bay. On the 25th the depression had reached Burma, and pressure became decidedly high over Bengal and Behar, and these conditions obtained until the close of the month. With this pressure distribution a steady north-westerly and westerly wind set in over Bengal, skies then cleared rapidly, the local storms and frequent rainfall which had previously obtained, ceased, humidity decreased rapidly, and generally fine settled weather set in from about the 27th which lasted till the close of the month.

Pressure.—The changes of pressure which have occurred during the month have been unusually large, though the mean pressures week by week do not show very large variations. In the first week pressure was in excess by amounts of from two to four-hundredths of an inch. In the second week the stations in the plains generally were in slight excess by one or two-hundredths of an inch, but at Darjeeling the unusually large defect of 0·088 inch was registered, which pointed to a considerable disturbance in the upper strata of the atmosphere. In the third week the general excess pressure at the plains stations was about equal to that in the previous week, and the defect at Darjeeling had almost disappeared. In the fourth week a general excess pressure of from seven to nine-hundredths of an inch was registered, the excess being largest in Behar, where at some stations it equalled a tenth of an inch, but at Darjeeling relatively defective pressure again obtained, as there was no excess pressure registered at that station. For the whole month the mean pressure at the stations in the plains has been about three or four-hundredths of an inch in excess of the normal, but on the other hand at Darjeeling a defect of a twentieth of an inch has been registered.

Temperature.—The mean temperature for the whole province for the first week was in defect of the normal by one and-a-half degrees. In the second week the defect had increased to between five and six degrees. In the third week the defect equalled four degrees, and for the fourth week it equalled 4·4°. For the whole month, therefore, the average defect of four degrees has been registered in Bengal, but in Assam the defect is only half of this and averages 2°. The largest defects have generally been registered in Chutia Nagpur, Behar, and South-West Bengal, and the smallest in Orissa and East Bengal.

The following table will show the principal variations of the day, night, and mean temperatures from the normal in each week of the month at nine typical stations in different districts of the province. In this table the extremely large variations of the day or maximum temperatures from the normal will be clearly seen : —

Rainfall.—The average falls in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur have equalled from four to five inches ; in East and North Bengal and South Behar they have equalled about three inches, while North Behar has received two and a third inches. These falls have been about three inches in excess of the normal in Orissa, South-West Bengal, South Behar, and Chutia Nagpur, nearly two inches in excess of the normal in North Behar and North Bengal, while in East Bengal the fall has been normal. Expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for March, the actuals have equalled the following figures :—South Behar 734, North Behar 590, Chutia Nagpur 506, Orissa 424, South-West Bengal 315, North Bengal 240, and East Bengal 98.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the month of March 1891 :—

* Means of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last [illegible] years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage saturation air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical means or average of the returns in that district derived from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a tenth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Saturday, the 11th of April 1891.

Explanation—..... indicate that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inch of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 14th April 1891.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, THE 11TH OF APRIL 1891.

NORMAL hot weather conditions of settled character had prevailed for the whole of the previous week, and for the whole of the present week the meteorological conditions have remained practically unchanged except for the ordinary oscillatory movements which characterise settled weather. On the 5th pressure had risen by about a twentieth of an inch, and had become slightly above the normal of the day, while temperature was also generally rising slowly, and was above the normal in all districts except North Behar and North and Central Bengal; winds were generally on this day very strongly westerly. Pressure changes were small and variable on the 6th, while temperature had generally fallen and was slightly below the normal; the strong westerly element in the wind directions continued. A slight rise of pressure and of temperature again occurred on the 7th, and winds became decidedly more southerly at the eastern stations. Similar changes occurred on the 8th, and winds then became south-westerly over the greater part of the province, and on the 9th again pressure and temperature increased, but the increase of temperature was more rapid, and at some stations it equalled 3° and 4°. Rather strong south-westerly winds were blowing over the greater part of the province on this day, and pressure had became above the normal by about a tenth of an inch in the western and southern districts, while in North Bengal the excess was comparatively small. A rather rapid fall of pressure took place on the 10th, but it still continued above the normal, while temperature again rose slowly and became about 2° or 3° above the normal. South-easterly winds on this day had set in at some of the eastern stations, causing a certain amount of interaction to take place with the south-westerly winds which were blowing over the greater part of the province, and on the 10th a few rain showers were reported at some of the stations in East Bengal, but they were of no practical importance. Conditions on the 11th were practically identical with those on the 10th, except that the rain showers in East Bengal ceased. For the whole week therefore practically settled hot weather conditions of about normal character have obtained.

Pressure—Has for the greater part of the week been rather above the normal, and the mean pressure has been from four to six-hundredths of an inch in excess except at some of the stations in North Bengal, where the excess has been smaller than this.

Temperature.—For the first time for several weeks the mean temperature of the province has been above the normal for the period, but the excess has averaged only seven-tenths of a degree. The excess has been largest in East Bengal, where it has equalled 2·7°, whereas on the other hand there have been slightly defective temperatures registered in South-West Bengal and North Behar.

The actual temperatures registered during the week and their variation from their normal values are best shown in the following table, where the average maximum, minimum, and mean temperatures for the week are given and compared with the normal:—

Rainfall.—The few isolated showers which have occurred in East Bengal during the week have given an average of 0·13 inch of rain, which is of no practical importance. Elsewhere the whole province has been almost absolutely rainless

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on any such arrival being signalled, the Health Officer of the Port shall go alongside the vessel and ascertain by enquiry from the Commander whether any person on board is suffering, or has during the voyage suffered, from plague, and if the Health Officer is satisfied by such enquiry that no person on board is suffering, or during the voyage has suffered, from plague, he shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage, duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival in the harbour. The Health Officer shall also direct the Commander to prohibit, during the period for which the vessel remains at the quarantine anchorage as aforesaid, all communication except such as is hereinafter provided for between such vessel and the shore, or other vessels and boats in the harbour.

IV.—If the Health Officer shall have reason to believe at the time when the vessel arrives in the harbour that any person on board is suffering, or during the voyage has suffered, from plague, he shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage as aforesaid, and there to remain for a period of fifteen days from the day of arrival in the harbour; and shall further direct that during such fifteen days, intercourse between the said vessel and the shore or other vessels and boats in the harbour shall be prohibited as provided in Rule III.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days, or if the vessel has been placed in quarantine for fifteen days, for a period of fifteen days. If a case of plague occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present Calcutta Hackney-Carriage Act, Act V (B.C.) of 1866, has been amended by Act IV (B.C.) of 1878 so far as to authorize the Local Government to empower the Corporation, instead of the Commissioner of Police, to appoint the registering officer and to place the registering officer so appointed under the orders, disposition and control of the Corporation. It is now considered desirable by express legislation to place the working of the Act under a registering officer appointed by the Corporation.

The hackney carriage service in Calcutta is far from satisfactory, and has given occasion to much justifiable criticism and complaint which forced itself upon the notice of the Municipality in October last, and the object of the present legislation is to assist the Commissioners in every possible way in giving effect to their laudable desire to improve this service.

Under section 4 of the Act, as it now stands, no hackney-carriage can be registered under the first class unless it belongs to a coach-builder, hotel-keeper, or livery stable-keeper, and does not ply for hire in the public streets. It is desirable to remove this restriction as to ownership, and to allow first class carriages to ply for hire in exactly the same way as second and third class carriages are now allowed. It is proposed to require the specification of some further details in the register and license in order to strengthen the control of the Municipality over the description of carriages and horses to be used. The present law applies to the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta. The expression 'Suburbs of Calcutta' has, however, no legal meaning, since the greater portion of the old Suburban Municipality has been amalgamated with the town. It does not and never did include Howrah. But at present the Corporation conducts the business not only for the town, but also for neighbouring municipalities, including Howrah, and makes over to them a certain portion of the registration fees. In order to legalize this procedure, the new Bill authorizes the Local Government to include or exclude within the limits of Calcutta any local area in the vicinity of the same. Although there is a clause in the law empowering the Lieutenant-Governor to extend its provisions to any town or place, it would seem that such extension implies a separate administration and not the administration by one authority in respect of several municipalities. The present Act does not empower the Municipal Commissioners to frame bye-laws for regulating the working of hackney carriages. There are, however, many details connected with improved administration which ought to be enforced by bye-laws, and not to find a place in legislation. One of the most important objects with which the present Bill has been introduced is to provide special measures for the protection of weak, lame and sickly horses and ponies. It seems that all questions, such as the quality of carriages, size and condition of ponies and horses, tables of distances, the examination and qualifications of drivers, the conditions of their employment, and the like should be dealt with by bye-laws, and for this purpose a provision has been inserted in the Bill authorizing the making of such bye-laws subject to the approval of Government. Schedule A of the Act relating to rates and fares has also been reconsidered. It is proposed that rates of fare for first class carriages should be one rupee for the first hour and eight annas for every subsequent hour, making a total of Rs. 5 for a whole day, consisting of nine hours. It is proposed that the rate of fare for third class carriages should be increased to eight annas for the first and four annas for subsequent hours. It is also proposed that the rate for half a day of five hours should be abolished altogether ; that the rate for a whole day of nine hours should remain at Rs. 3 for second class carriages, as it is at present, and be fixed at Rs. 2 for third class carriages, instead of the present rate of Re. 1-8. The object of this revision is to enable a better standard of carriage and horses to be kept.

A number of petty alterations of more or less importance have also been introduced into the new Bill, and as it appears convenient to repeal the present Act, instead of amending it, the opportunity has been taken to introduce an entirely new measure which comprises all the alterations proposed.

Rocky patch on north side of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands, and existence of sunken rock in centre of channel, doubtful.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 108 of 1891), issued by the British Admiralty, is republished for general information :—

Information has been received from Lieutenant and Commander E. Rason, H. M. S. Plover, dated 19th January 1891, of the existence of a rocky patch, lying on the north side of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands.

The rocky patch on the north side of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands is about one cable in extent, and consists of three pinnacles, which dry 2 feet at low water spring tides, and have 1¾ to 2 fathoms between them, with 3¼ and 7 fathoms near its southern edge. It lies on the 5-fathoms line as heretofore charted (and which now has been extended southward of the rocky patch the distance of about one cable), with Kiamsan point, Labúan, bearing N. N. E. ¼ E., distant 6¼ cables, and Burong islet E. ¼ S.

Approximate position, lat. 5° 14′ 40″ N , long. 115° 8′ 40″ E.

Also that soundings taken in the vicinity of the sunken rock, on which the P. and O. steam-vessel Formosa is stated to have struck in 1856, and charted as lying in the centre of the channel between Labúan and Kuraman islands, or in approximately lat. 5° 14′ 25″ N., long. 115° 8′ 20″ E., gave a depth of 33 fathoms at the distance of 1 cable eastward of the reported position, the depth gradually increasing to 40 fathoms about 2½ cables southward of it. The existence of this rock therefore seems doubtful, and E. D. has been placed against it on the Admiralty Charts.

Shoals on eastern coasts of Masbate and Tayapula islands.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 109 of 1891) of the existence of the undermentioned shoals lying on the eastern coasts of Masbate and Tagapula islands, Philippine islands :—

1. A ledge of sand and rocks extends from Badlai islet, east side of entrance to port Kataingan towards Bugtun island for a distance of 1½ miles, with a breadth of 2¾ cables; the depths on the outer end of the ledge are 19 to 26 feet, but nearer Badlai islet for the distance of about 5½ cables there are several rocks with 3 to 10 feet water on them.

Approximate position of south extreme : lat. 11° 55′ N., long. 124° 4′ E.

2. Bugtun island, southward of port Kataingan, has no shoal ground extending from its coasts at a greater distance than about one cable.

3. A sandbank extends from Balanguingue island, southward of port Kataingan, towards Bugtun island for a distance of 4¼ cables. Near the centre of the narrow channel between these two islands there is a shoal of small extent with 8 fathoms water on it.

4. Shoal ground does not extend to a greater distance than about one cable from Matayon point. Approximate position : lat. 11° 59′ N., long. 124° 3′ E.

5. A shoal composed of coral and stones, and extending about 5 cables in a north and south direction, with a breadth of about 1½ cables, and having 9 feet (the least found) water on it, lies with the eastern extreme of Tagapula island bearing about S.W., distant one mile. Southward of the shoal the water deepens quickly to about 20 fathoms.

Approximate position : lat. 12° 6′ N., long. 124° 16′ E.

Approximate position : lat. 19° 19′ 10″ S., long. 147° 28′ 50″ E.

NOTE—As there may be less water on this shoal than above given, vessels should give it a wide berth.

Kaipara harbour—New leading beacons at entrance.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 104, dated the 29th July 1890, issued by this office, the British Admiralty has given further notice (No. 114 of 1891) that the undermentioned beacons, recently erected on North head and its slopes, are now the leading marks for the entrance to Kaipara harbour :—

The upper beacon on North head, painted black, bears from North head light-house N. by W. ½ W., distant about 1,100 yards ; the middle beacon on North head, painted white, bears from the light-house W. ¾ N., distant about 1,000 yards ; and the lower beacon on a low hill, North sand spit, painted white, bears from the light-house S. W. by W., distant about 2,400 yards.

Two smaller beacons, painted black, are situated on the slope of North head, eastward of the light-house ; the north-eastern bears from the light-house E. ½ N., distant about 950 yards ; the south-western bears from the light-house E. by S. ½ S., distant about 700 yards.

DIRECTIONS.—The three first-mentioned beacons kept in line, bearing N. E. ¾ N., lead from seaward through Galatea channel (with 5 fathoms at low water on the Outer bar the least depth), until between North sand spit and Tory shoal ; the two smaller beacons on the slope of North head will then be seen ; and when these are brought in line, bearing N. E. ¾ E., the vessel will be well clear of the northern edge of Tory shoal, and a course may be steered along the land till abreast the light-house, paying attention to any directions given from the signal station near the light-house.

NOTE.—The light-house, now painted white, is no longer a leading mark for entering Kaipara harbour.

Posts and lights marking telegraph cables.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 127 of 1891) that the line of telegraph cables laid between the Cable house situated about 450 yards south-west of North point, Hongkong, and the Cable house situated about 35 yards southward of the battery on the south-east point of Kaulung peninsula, is now marked by four white posts (two on each side), from which are exhibited red lights at night. No vessels of any description are to anchor within the area indicated by these four posts and lights.

The lights are so screened that the easternmost lights are obscured eastward, and the westernmost lights westward, of the prohibited area ; when therefore the two lights on the same side are visible at the same time, vessels must proceed until one or other of the lights is obscured, before anchoring.

The posts are further distinguished during the day by a red diamond below the lantern

HACKNEY CARRIAGES AND PALANQUINS ACT, 1866, AMENDMENT BILL.

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Hackney-carriages and Palanquins in Calcutta. He said:—

"Mr. President—As it is my intention to ask you to be good enough to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business with a view to the introduction of the Bill at this meeting, it will probably be unnecessary that I should trouble the Council with any observations on the subject of the present motion."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON applied to the President to suspend the rules of business to enable him to introduce the Bill.

The HON'BLE THE PRESIDENT said:—"Our object is to enable this Bill to be passed at a Sessions of the Council which will take place in July and August next, so that the Act may come into effect on the 1st of October following. The importance of that object seems sufficient to justify me in declaring the suspension of the standing rules."

The HON'BLE MR. COTTON said:—"In introducing the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to hackney-carriages and palanquins in Calcutta, it will be convenient that I should, in the first instance, refer briefly to the history of the legislation in Calcutta relating to hackney-carriages.

"It is nearly 27 years ago since legislation on the subject was first introduced into this Council. Our much respected fellow-townsman Nawab (then Moulvie) Abdul Latif was placed in charge of the first law relating to hackney-carriages in Calcutta. That measure became law as Act I of 1864 after considerable discussion. The objects of that measure, in the words of the hon'ble member, were 'to restrain the extortion of native livery stable-keepers, provide a regulated scale of fares, and otherwise to place the relations between the carriage hiring community and the owners and drivers of gharries on a satisfactory footing.'

"After a brief interval it was, however, found that Moulvie Abdul Latif's Act required amendment. Although it placed sufficient obligations on the owners of carriages, it was considered that it failed to exercise sufficient control over the drivers of carriages. Moreover, it left practically uncontrolled power in the hands of the registering officer. A Bill was therefore introduced by Mr. F. R. Cockerell into this Council to amend and supersede the former Act, and became law as Act V of 1866. That is the law now in force. There has been no substantive change in legislation on the subject, with the exception of an amending measure introduced by Mr. Reynolds in 1878. The Act of 1866 (Mr. Cockerell's Act) placed the registering officer and the administration of the law relating to hackney-carriages entirely under the control of the Commissioner of Police. The object of Mr. Reynolds' amending Act, IV of 1878, was to authorise the Local Government to place the registering officer under the control and supervision of the Corporation. That Act empowered the Local Government to make an order authorising the Corporation to exercise the powers exercised by the Commissioner of Police, and under that law the necessary order was passed, and since 1878 the registering office and the administration of the Hackney-Carriage Act have been transferred from the Commissioner of Police to the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta. There was no other change made in the law.

"Now, Sir, you, as well as all the members of this Council, must be well aware that from a long time past there has been growing up a strong feeling of dissatisfaction with the way in which the hackney-carriage service of Calcutta is administered. The public of Calcutta, both the residents and visitors to the place, have complained, and with good reason, of the extreme inefficiency of the ticca gharries of the city, and of the disreputable manner in which they are turned out. The Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, responding to the public sentiment on the subject, took the matter into their consideration last autumn, and appointed a Committee to enquire into the working of the Act and to suggest amendments. In this Committee the leading members were two representatives of the Trades' Association—Mr. Phelps and Mr. Remfry—and it is to those gentlemen in particular, as well as to the Committee in general, that the thanks of the Calcutta community are due for working out a scheme to improve the working of the hackney-carriage service of Calcutta. The Committee sat several times, and their report was laid before this Government on the 30th of March last. Their recommendation was that legislation should be resorted to, and that further powers should be given to the Corporation to carry out the objects of the Act. It was felt by the Government that it was very necessary to assist and encourage the Corporation in their praiseworthy endeavours to improve the administration of the hackney-carriage service, and no time was lost therefore in preparing a draft measure and in obtaining the permission of the Government of India to introduce it into this Council.

"Mr. President—As it is not probable that I shall be in Calcutta during the deliberations of the Select Committee on this Bill, I venture to trespass on your time and on that of the Council at somewhat greater length than would otherwise have been necessary, in explaining some of the different changes proposed to be introduced in the substantive law on this subject. I have briefly explained them in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, but it will be convenient that, on this occasion, I should explain them in somewhat greater detail.

"The first of the changes effected under the new Bill is to lay down that the working of the Act is to be entirely under the control of the Corporation of Calcutta. Under the existing law, as I have stated, it is in the power of the Local Government to authorise the Corporation of Calcutta to take measures for that purpose, but this Bill will place the working of the Act directly under the Corporation without any delegation of authority from Government.

"It is intended also that financial responsibility shall accompany administrative responsibility. Under section 51 of the present Act, it is laid down that all penalties and fees levied under the Act shall be disposed of in such manner as the Local Government shall direct. In point of fact, in most cases in which the Act has been extended to mofussil municipalities, it has been directed by the Government that fees and penalties shall be credited to the municipality concerned. But this has not been done in Calcutta. There have been a series of conflicting and varying orders on the subject; but as the orders now stand, fees and penalties, after deducting working expenses, are credited to Provincial funds under the head of Police. A grant is then made to the municipality for the construction and maintenance of stands, and the balance over is again credited to Government. This is a very cumbrous arrangement, which it is undesirable should continue. I have therefore omitted in the present Bill the provision that all penalties and fees shall be disposed of in such manner as the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall direct, and the effect of this omission is that all fees levied will be credited to the Corporation; that is to say, the fees payable on the registration of carriages, the fees payable on drivers' licenses, as well as any fees which shall be leviable under the Act on account of transfers of registration or copies furnished. All these fees will be credited to the Corporation. But penalties or fines imposed in Magistrates' Courts will be credited, under the general rules on the subject, to the Government. It is of course at the discretion of the Government at any time to order, if it should be thought fit, that fines realised under any special law may be credited to the municipality; but there seems no reason to refer to this in legislation. At present it is contemplated that penalties and fines realised on convictions under the Act shall be credited, as penalties and fines for all other offences are, to the Government.

"Another point of some importance is the arrangement made by this Bill in regard to jurisdiction. The present Act applies to Calcutta and the Suburbs of Calcutta. But since the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act has been passed, the expression 'Suburbs of Calcutta' has no longer any definite meaning. As a fact the present law, worked under the registering officer appointed by the Corporation of Calcutta, is administered by the Corporation in communication with the adjoining municipalities, such as the municipalities of Howrah, Cossipore-Chitpore, Maniktollah and Dum-Dum. There is one registering officer maintained in Calcutta, who registers gharries for all these neighbouring municipalities, and, under arrangements come to with those municipalities, they receive a certain portion of the fees placed at the disposal of the Corporation. The South Suburban Municipality is worked separately. There is a separate registering officer there, and I am informed that the gharries of that municipality pay fees twice over both to the South Suburban Municipality and to the Calcutta Corporation. The Bill now before the Council is designed to avoid any difficulties which may be found to result from the present arrangement. It defines 'Calcutta' as it is defined by the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, but the next section (4) says:—'The Local Government may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette exclude from Calcutta any local area, or include therein any local area, in the vicinity of the same.' It will therefore require a notification from the Government to include Howrah or any of these suburban municipalities within the limits of Calcutta for the purposes of this Act. But when they have been included by that notification, the arrangements which are in force in Calcutta will also extend to those municipalities, and it will be left with the local bodies concerned to make arrangements amongst themselves for distributing the fees and apportioning the expenditure.

"The existing law authorises the Local Government to extend the provisions of the Act to any other local area in the Province where it may be found necessary to do so. This has been done in many places, and the same provision is continued in the present Bill. The last section of the Bill, which has been taken from the Madras Act on the subject, is new. It supplies what was an omission in the present law that, when the Act is extended to any town or place, the Local Government may appoint persons to perform the duties imposed by the law on the Commissioner of Police and the Registering Officer. In mofussil municipalities it will be convenient to entrust the powers of the registering officer to some subordinate—it may be of the Municipality or it may be some Government official—and the powers of the Commissioner of Police will have to be delegated in the same way to some corresponding authority in the mofussil municipality to which the Act may be extended.

"The next change to which I shall refer is the year of registration. Under the present law the year of registration dates from the 1st of April. It is proposed in this Bill to make the registration year take effect from the 1st of October, which will be convenient on the general ground that the Calcutta season commences in October or November, and the carriages licensed under the Act will therefore be new and smart at the time of the year when the season commences.

"A more important change relates to the recognition of first class hackney-carriages on the same footing as second and third class carriages. Under the present law, no hackney-carriage can be registered under the first class unless it belongs to a coach-builder, hotel-keeper or livery stable-keeper, and does not ply for hire in the public streets. The consequence is that no one in Calcutta is aware that he has ever seen hackney-carriages of the first class. They exist in livery stables, but are not marked as such, and to the general public hackney-carriages consist entirely of second and third class carriages. By the change proposed in the Bill hackney-carriages of the first class will ply for hire in exactly the same way as second and third class hackney-carriages; there is to be no difference in this respect between them whatever. The only difference will be that the license fee and the rates of fare will be higher in the case of first class carriages, and they will therefore be of a better quality. There are also some minor details with which I need not trouble the Council regarding registration and license, the object of which is to strengthen the control of the municipality over the working of the Hackney-Carriage Department.

"Another minor change to which I wish to draw attention is, that the age of the driver, which under the present law cannot be below 14, is raised by the Bill to 16. The fees for registration are also slightly increased. Under the present law a fee of Rs. 3 is paid for first class hackney-carriages, and of Rs. 2 for second and third class carriages. In the Bill before the Council, it is proposed that a fee of Rs. 4 shall be paid for first class hackney-carriages, of Rs. 3 for second class, and of Rs. 2 for third class carriages. It is proposed also, that, when any change of address is registered, the fee which would be realisable by the Corporation should be eight annas. At present there is no fee for transfer of ownership or changes of address.

"There are sundry other changes in the Bill to which attention will be drawn in Select Committee, especially in regard to the amount of penalties imposed, the general tendency of the changes made being to reduce the penalties, especially in the case of drivers. Under the present Act it is found that the alternative penalty in default of payment of fine is somewhat excessive. For instance, in the case of a fine of Rs. 10, imprisonment for one month is imposed in default of payment of the fine, and this period of imprisonment seems excessive in comparison to the amount of pecuniary fine. It has been reduced in most cases, so as to be more proportionate to the amount of the fine which it is competent to a Magistrate to inflict.

"Then the most important of the changes I think which the Bill proposes is, that it authorises the Corporation to make bye-laws subject to the approval of the Government for the working of the Act. It is a serious defect in the present Act that no power is given to make bye-laws. It was not necessary of course that this power should have been given as long as the control of the hackney-carriage service rested in the hands of the Commissioner of Police, but when that power was transferred to the Corporation of Calcutta, it was quite necessary that the power of making bye-laws should also be given to the Corporation. As a fact certain bye-laws have been framed by the Municipality, but as they are not authorised by the law, they are of no legal validity. It is proposed in the Bill that a variety of rules which it is not convenient should be contained in substantive legislation should be made by the Municipal Commissioners and enforced as bye-laws. The first of these has reference to the examination of the qualifications for drivers and the conditions under which they should be employed. This is a very important point. At present, as far as I am aware, drivers are not subjected to any examination at all, and we all know, I think from experience, that their ignorance of the topography of Calcutta is as great as can well be imagined. There is no reason why the standard of intelligence and the knowledge of the streets of Calcutta possessed by hackney-carriage drivers should not be considerably improved. In other countries it is usual to subject such drivers to examination both in driving and topography before they are allowed to take out licenses, and it is desirable that a similar course should be followed in Calcutta. But the rules on the subject should certainly be left to the local body which is responsible for the working of the law and need not find a place in the Act itself. Then there is the description of horses, harness and other things to be used in hackney-carriages, and the condition in which such carriages and the horses, harness and other things used therewith shall be kept There are also other questions of importance, namely, the size of the carriages and the size of the horses or ponies. These are all matters which ought to be provided for by the controlling authority in bye-laws, and there is the inspection of the premises on which the carriages, horses, harness and other things are kept. It is convenient that rules should be laid down for regular inspection, without which no proper control can be exercised. Then there is also what is of the first importance, namely, the protection of weak, lame and sickly horses. It is not too much to say that in the opinion of the Government this provision is the most important of all. It is a point to which public attention has been most prominently drawn, and it is a point on which the public expect, both of the Government and the Municipality, that they will adopt stringent measures to ensure improvement. Then there is the question of the publication of a table of distances. In other countries it is usual at a hackney-carriage stand to find a table of distances, from which the public may learn what fare they will have to pay from such a point to such a point. This is a matter which the Municipal Commissioners should certainly consider, and they probably will prepare tables and have them put up at the stands for the information of the public. It is of course very necessary that these bye-laws should not have effect until confirmed by the Local Government, and this is provided for by the Bill, and a penalty for the infringement of any bye-law is also provided.

"Now I come to the question of rates of fare. They are contained in a schedule annexed to the Act, and it is proposed in the present Bill to make some change in the existing rates. As regards first class hackney-carriages which are not referred to at all in the schedule to the present Act, as they are not under the existing law carriages which ply for hire, it is proposed that the fare by distance should be annas 8 for a mile or less, and 6 annas for every mile or part of a mile over and above the first mile; that the fare by time should be Re. 1 for one hour or less, and 8 annas for every hour or part of an hour beyond the first hour; and that for a whole day consisting of nine hours the fare should be Rs. 5. These are the rates proposed for first class carriages. With regard to second class carriages no change is proposed in the rates of fare by distance or in the fares by time, except that the provision in the present law, which authorises a special rate to be paid for half a day of five hours, is omitted entirely from the new schedule. As to third class carriages there is no change proposed in regard to the fares by distance, but there is a slight increase proposed in regard to the fares by time. The present law imposes a fare of 6 annas for the first hour or part of an hour; this is raised by the Bill to 8 annas, and for every hour or part of an hour beyond the first hour the rate is raised from 3 annas to 4 annas, and for a whole day consisting of nine hours the rate is raised from Re. 1-8 to Rs. 2; and as in the case of second class carriages the rate for half a day of five hours has been struck out. The object of raising the rates in regard to third class carriages is to enable a better standard of carriage and horse to be kept up, as the complaint of the owners of third class hackney-carriages is that really they cannot afford to keep up better carriages or to entertain a better class of ponies, and this slight raising of the rates of fare will remove the cause of this complaint. It is expected of the Corporation that they will insist on better third class carriages being maintained, and of the public that they will be prepared to pay slightly increased rates of fare in return for a better article.

"The Act relates not only to hackney-carriages, but to palanquins, but it is not proposed to make any change in the existing law in regard to palanquins.

"There are various petty alterations, many of a verbal character, in the Bill, and, with reference to the number of changes effected, it has been considered advisable to repeal the existing law entirely and to propose a new enactment in its place. As the President has told you, it is not the intention of the Government to hasten or rush the passing of the Bill in Select Committee. As the Bill has been laid before you to-day after suspension of the rules of business, no doubt it has the appearance of having been pressed somewhat more rapidly than is usual in the case of Bills introduced into this Council, but such pressure was unavoidable having regard to the late date on which the Government received the papers on the subject from the Chairman of the Corporation. The intention of the Government is that the Bill shall be published in the Gazette and circulated through the press and other channels to all persons interested in its provisions, and that they should be asked to favour the Government with their opinions. It is hoped that these opinions may be collected in the course of two or three months, and that it may be possible to pass the Bill during an autumn session, so that it may take effect from the new year, which, as I have informed you, it is proposed to date from the 1st of October.

"With these remarks I beg to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Mr. Cotton also moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, the Hon'ble Dr. Rash Behari Ghose, the Hon'ble Mr. Wallis, and the Mover.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned sine die.

Terms of the contract assignment.

2. The current contract between the Government of India and the Government of Bengal was based on arrangements made by the Finance Committee. No material advance in the system of decentralisation was made, but by a redistribution of the shares of Imperial and Provincial Governments in the three principal heads of Land Revenue, Stamps and Excise, and by certain reductions in expenditure which were considered feasible, a general standard of normal revenue and expenditure was obtained, which was adopted as the "Ruling account." The surplus of this account, amounting to Rs. 6,90,000, was appropriated by the Government of India through the Land Revenue head, leaving the province with a Revenue and Expenditure exactly equal. Under the present contract the Government of Bengal has been admitted to a quarter share in the land revenue collections, except those from Government estates, whilst under Stamps and Excise its share was changed from one-half to three-fourths and one-fourth respectively. The proportion of charges under Stamps and Excise follows the proportion of receipts. The cost of surveys and settlements and the maintenance of agricultural works and embankments was made entirely Provincial. Refunds and drawbacks follow the proportions assigned for the revenues. The Patna-Gya State Railway was made Imperial, and the Eastern Bengal State Railway System Provincial, with this reservation, that any excess over 30 lakhs in the net revenue from the Eastern Bengal State Railway proper will be credited to Imperial revenues, and that any deficiency below 20 lakhs will be made good by Imperial to Provincial. The interest on funds provided for outlay on State Railways and Irrigation Major Works is borne by the Provincial revenues and is calculated on the entire capital outlay, including loss by exchange, from the commencement of operations, but excluding the amount advanced from Provincial revenues during the term of the contract. The Provincial Government was allowed to retain an opening balance of Rs. 20,00,000 at the commencement of the quinquennial period, and under the orders of the Government of India this balance may not be reduced.

The only important change which has been made since the contract was finally settled is the transfer of the management of the Tirhoot State Railway to the Bengal and North-Western Railway Company from 1st July 1890. This change does not, however, materially affect the resources of the Provincial Government, although its accounts are swollen by the inclusion of the receipts and working expenses of the Railway, and the payment of the Company's share of the net receipts from the entire undertaking.

Actuals of 1887-88.

3. The first year of the contract, 1887-88, was a period of comparative prosperity. The receipts under the principal heads of revenue were highly favourable. Railways showed a great advance above the contract estimate, and at the same time there was a large reduction of expenditure in the Civil Department. To a considerable extent this reduction was fictitious, as the savings under the head of Education were adjusted by corresponding grants made to District Boards. But these adjustments were not completed within the year, and while the accounts closed with a small increase of expenditure over the contract assignment of only Rs. 3,90,189, the increase in receipts was Rs. 17,00,256. The net surplus of the year was Rs. 13,10,067 and the closing cash balance Rs. 33,08,990.

Actuals of 1888-89.

4. The year 1888-89 opened accordingly under favourable conditions. But the harvest generally was a poor one, and the elasticity of the revenues which had been marked under several years of prosperity suffered a severe check. For the first time for many years the stamp revenue receded. But the income from railways continued to show a satisfactory increase. It is from this cause mainly that the total receipts of the year are about 6¼ lakhs of rupees more than they were in 1887-88. The expenditure side shows, however, an increase of nearly 26 lakhs. This is largely due to the increased grant for civil works of about 11 lakhs. This grant was made when it was known that the credit opening balance of the year was more than 33 lakhs, and financial prospects in other directions were generally good. The additional grant was urgently required and was very profitably expended. There was an unavoidable increase in expenditure under Railways, under Contributions to District Boards, and an augmented outlay under most heads of general administration. The net financial results of the year are, however, less unsatisfactory than was at one time anticipated. The accounts closed with an increase of expenditure over the contract assignment of Rs. 29,88,922, and an increase in the receipts of Rs. 23,31,004. The net deficit is Rs. 6,57,918, and the closing cash balance was reduced to Rs. 26,51,072.

Actuals of 1889-90.

5. The receipts of the year 1889-90 were generally satisfactory. The principal heads of revenue showed a large increase, of which, however, about 2¼ lakhs are due to special assignments from the Government of India to the Local Government for special works, principally the Orissa Coast and Hidgilee Tidal Canals which, under the rules in force, are shown under the head of Land Revenue, and a grant of Rs. 1,91,423 was made under the same head for a new pilot brig. A grant of two lakhs was also made to the Provincial Government with effect from this year on account of the cost of the Metropolitan Police. Stamps, Provincial rates, Assessed taxes, Forests and Registration all showed an increase. The item of Land Revenue proper was augmented by the payment of large arrears of revenue due from the Burdwan Raj estate for the preceding year. The receipts from Railways increased by nearly eight lakhs of rupees. On the other hand, there was a falling off in Excise, and the prospects of the year, which would otherwise have been very favourable, were clouded by bad harvests and distress in Behar and Orissa. The increase in expenditure under ordinary heads was not more than must be expected under a progressive administration. A larger outlay is necessary to ensure a larger revenue. The increase under Police was principally due to the conversion of the entire cost of the Calcutta and Suburban Police as a Provincial charge with effect from the 1st April 1889, and under Marine to the purchase of the steamer Guide. The outlay on Famine Relief is of a special nature. The expenditure on Civil Works was curtailed. The accounts closed with an increase of expenditure over the contract assignment of Rs. 39,62,110 and an increase in the receipts of Rs. 49,87,500. The net surplus of the year was Rs. 10,25,390, and the closing cash balance amounted to Rs. 36,76,460.

Revised estimate for 1890-91.

6. The financial position of the past year 1890-91 is primarily affected by the payment of ten lakhs of rupees, which has been transferred under the orders of the Government of India from Provincial to Imperial revenues. This payment is adjusted in Land Revenue under the head of Receipts on account of principal heads of revenue. The large increase under Railways is principally due to the inclusion of the gross receipts of the Bengal and North-Western Railway for the last nine months of the year. There has been a corresponding increase in the expenditure side, and the net surplus has been discounted by a credit for 4 lakhs taken by the Government of India under the head of Land Revenue on account of the estimated net earnings of the Company for the last three months which were not paid during the year. A credit for Rs. 3,17,000 has been taken under Civil Works, being the estimated value of a portion of land in the Custom House premises made over to the East Indian Railway Company for the extension of their office building. The ordinary heads of revenue show but little expansion. The expenditure, on the contrary, shows a tendency to increase under almost all heads. There is a large increase under Land Revenue on account of Surveys and Settlement; under Law and Justice on account of the increase in Civil Courts; under Railways as already explained; and also under Irrigation and Civil Public Works. A special grant of four lakhs was made from Provincial Revenues to the Public Works Department to undertake urgent works, and especially to defray the cost of repairs and maintenance of the roads in the Darjeeling district, which were much damaged by heavy rains. The accounts of the year are not finally settled, but it is expected that they will close with a net deficit of Rs. 4,15,000, and that the closing balance on the 31st March will have been reduced to Rs. 32,61,000.

Budget estimate for 1891-92.

7. For the year 1891-92, which is the last year of the current contract, the budget estimates, which have been passed by the Government of India, provide for an increase of revenue under almost all heads of account. The total amounts to Rs. 5,47,57,000, which is no less than Rs. 83,10,000 in excess of the figures in the contract assignment. But at the same time the estimates of expenditure have increased in a still larger proportion. The expenditure is estimated to be Rs. 5,48,71,000, or Rs. 84,24,000 in excess of the assignment.

RECEIPTS—Principal heads of revenue.

8. The following table shows the receipts under the principal heads of revenue according to the contract assignment, and the anticipated receipts under the same heads for the current year :—

	Contract assignment.	Budget estimate, 1891-92.	Increase.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Land Revenue (proper) ...	98,53,000	98,55,000	2,000

	Rs.	Rs.	Rs
Forests	3,50,000	3,90,000	40,000

Total ...	2,84,82,000	3,11,09,000	26,27,000

The large increase under Land Revenue is due to special assignments from Imperial to Provincial Funds which are adjusted under this head. The other increases are attributable to the natural expansiveness of the revenues, especially under the head of Stamps and Assessed Taxes. The increase under Provincial Rates is principally due to a change in procedure under which the cost of collecting the Road and Public Works cesses is adjusted under Provincial Rates, the share debitable to district funds being shown as receipts under the same head. After eliminating adjustments and transfers of account, the real increase credited to the Provincial revenues under principal heads during the five years of the current contract is Rs. 15,87,000.

Railways.

9. Under Railways, there is an extraordinary increase during the same period of from Rs. 1,00,19,000 to Rs. 1,55,20,000, or more than 55 lakhs of rupees, of which nearly half is nominal and due to the inclusion of the receipts of the Bengal North-Western Railway, and the remainder is a real Provincial asset derived from the successful administration of the Eastern Bengal Railway System.

EXPENDITURE—Revenue heads.

10. A comparative statement of the expenditure during the past five years under Revenue heads is also shown in detail—

	Contract assignment.	Budget estimate. 1891-92.
	Rs.	Rs.
Refunds and drawbacks	1,55,000	1,49,000
Assignments and compensation ...	1,68,000	1,55,000
Land Revenue	34,08,000	39,08,000
Salt	11,000	31,000
Stamps	3,75,000	4,11,000
Excise	96,000	1,70,000

Registration	2,95,000	3,22,000
Total ...	53,15,000	64,05,000

The increase in round numbers amounts to 11 lakhs of rupees. The increase under Land Revenue is principally due to surveys and settlements, the cost of which next year is estimated at Rs. 6,22,000 against an annual assignment of Rs. 2,90,000 for this purpose in the contract. The increase of expenditure under Excise is the necessary accompaniment of the important changes which have been made in the administration of this Department. The new charge shown under Provincial Rates is a matter of account only, and represents the cost of collecting the cesses in the districts to which the Local Self-Government Act has been extended. The other returns do not seem to call for explanation.

Civil Departments.

11. The items which compose the major head of Salaries and Expenses of the Civil Department may be compared as follows:—

	Contract assignment.	Budget estimate.
	Rs.	Rs.
General Administration	15,62,000	15,73,000
Judicial Courts	80,11,000	85,05,000
Jails	17,28,000	21,96,000
Police	47,48,000	53,33,000
Marine	7,81,000	8,78,000
Education	32,46,000	24,94,000
Medical	14,59,000	15,51,000
Political	.....	22,000
Scientific and other Minor Departments	3,30,000	3,07,000
Total ...	2,18,65,000	2,28,59,000

Under some of these heads the increase in expenditure has been very large. The increase of nearly 5 lakhs under Judicial Courts represents the financial effect of the increase which has been found necessary in the number of Subordinate Judges and Munsifs and judicial establishments generally. The increase under Jails is on account of the large outlay on machinery and manufactures, and is in a measure counterbalanced by a corresponding increase in receipts. The increase in the cost of Police amounts to nearly six lakhs of rupees. This is partly due to the cost of the Metropolitan Police, which has been provincialised, and partly to the larger expenditure which it is necessary to provide for officering the Lushai Hill Tracts. The reduction under Education is fictitious only. A great portion of the expenditure under this head is no longer departmental, but is incurred by District Boards to which an equivalent grant is made for the purpose under the head of Contributions. A portion of the increase under the head of Medical is due to the establishment of a Sanitary Board.

Miscellaneous.

12. Miscellaneous expenditure has increased from Rs. 26,61,000 to Rs. 27,90,000. There is, however, a decrease under Stationery and Printing and Miscellaneous proper, and the real increase under this heading is due to superannuation or pensionary charges which have risen from Rs. 12,54,000 to Rs. 15,43,000.

Railways.

13. The expenditure on Railways has increased from Rs. 87,63,000 to Rs. 1,25,38,000; of this amount nearly twenty-five lakhs are due to the inclusion of the working expenses of the Bengal and North-Western Railway and the Company's share of net receipts for the year, three lakhs to the working expenses of other railways, and the remainder to interest on debt and miscellaneous charges.

Irrigation.

14. Irrigation expenditure has increased from Rs. 45,69,000 to Rs. 55,22,000. The interest charge has risen from Rs. 22,94,000 to Rs. 24,08,000, and the remainder is due to expenditure on works. A large share of the expenditure on the Orissa Coast and Hidgilee Tidal Canals has been contributed by the Government of India and is credited under the head of Land Revenue.

Civil works.

15. The increase in expenditure on Civil Works from Rs. 31,14,000 provided in the contract to Rs. 38,01,000 in the ensuing year is unavoidable with reference to the necessities of so large a province.

Contributions.

16. The increase under Contributions from Rs. 1,59,000 to Rs. 8,30,000 is due to the development of Local Self-Government and the assignments it has been necessary to make to local bodies in order to maintain an equilibrium between receipts and expenditure imposed on them.

17. It is expected that the current year, which is the last year of the present Provincial contract, will close with a balance at the credit of Provincial revenues of Rs. 31,47,000.

18. A statement is annexed showing details of receipts and expenditure during the quinquennial period, and comparing them with the figures of the Provincial contract.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO ENQUIRE INTO THE CONDITION OF EUROPEANS AND EURASIANS IN CALCUTTA.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 18th April 1891.

RESOLUTION No. 479.

READ—

A letter from the President of the Calcutta District Charitable Society, No. 76, dated the 3rd February 1891.

Read also—

A memorial from the Directors of the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association, dated the 7th March 1891.

In the letters cited above the President of the Calcutta District Charitable Society and the Directors of the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association have requested Government to appoint a Commission for the purpose of collecting information and making suggestions on the following points:—

(1) the extent and nature of the poverty and destitution which prevail in the town of Calcutta amongst Europeans and Eurasians;
(2) the various charitable institutions and the funds at their disposal for the relief of such destitution;
(3) the best methods of relieving present destitution;
(4) any means which may be devised for preventing its growth and increase in future.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is not free from apprehension that the institution by Government of an enquiry of the character contemplated may raise hopes which it will be impossible to satisfy, so that he deems it right to place it on record that, in yielding to the applications before him, he neither commits the Government to accept any new financial responsibilities, nor proposes that it should attempt to occupy the field of the operations of private charity. He believes that private charity in Calcutta is amply sufficient to deal with local destitution, and mainly requires organisation and direction; he agrees that the enquiry will be facilitated by the fact of its investigation having been authorised by Government; and he regards it as a matter of importance to the administration that the condition of this portion of the community should be thoroughly and accurately examined. In addition to the points mentioned in the communications addressed to Government, it is desirable that it should be ascertained whether poverty or pauperism is developing among the Europeans and Eurasians in Calcutta, and if so, at what rate it is increasing.

3. Under these circumstances Sir Charles Elliott has decided to appoint a representative Committee for the purposes mentioned in the preceding paragraphs, and has, with their consent, selected the following gentlemen to form it:—

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison, Kt., Member of the Board of Revenue	President.
The Hon'ble H. Beverley, President of the Calcutta District Charitable Society.	Members.
Colonel H. LeMarchant Carey, R.C., President of the Charitable Society of St. Vincent de Paul.
The Revd. G. H. Hook, Pastor of the Lall Bazar Baptist Chapel.
The Revd. Father Lafont, S.J., C.I.E., St. Xavier's College, Calcutta.
J. Lambert, Esq., C.I.E., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.
The Ven'ble F. R. Michell, Archdeacon of Calcutta.
W. H. Ryland, Esq., Vice-President of the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association.
The Revd. S. B. Taylor, President of the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association.
The Revd. F. W. Warne, B.D., Pastor, M. E. Church, Dhurrumtollah Street.
A. D'B. Gomess, Esq., Vice-President of the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association.	Member and Honorary Secretary.
P. McGuire, Esq., Secretary of the Calcutta District Charitable Society.	Honorary Assistant Secretary.

4. His Honour will be glad if the Committee can conveniently favour him with their report by the 1st of November.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the President, each Member, Honorary Secretary, and Honorary Assistant Secretary of the Committee, for information.

Ordered also that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the President of the Calcutta District Charitable Society and to the President of the Directors of the Eurasian and Anglo-Indian Association.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

LIBERALITY OF SYED MAHOMED IBRAHIM HOSAIN KHAN OF PATNA.

RESOLUTION No. 290.

The 21st April 1891.

READ—

A letter, dated 8th January 1891, from Syed Mahomed Ibrahim Hosain Khan of Patna.

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 824, dated 12th February 1891.

Letter from the Commissioner of Patna, No. 212G., dated 13th April 1891.

SYED MAHOMED IBRAHIM HOSAIN KHAN, second son of late Nawab Syed Lutf Ali Khan, C.I.E., of Patna, has offered to make over a sum of Rs. 2,000 to be invested in Government securities, for the purpose of founding a scholarship to be awarded annually to the Mahomedan student who passes highest at the Entrance Examination from the Patna Collegiate School. The scholarship is to be called the "Sir Charles Elliott Scholarship," and will be tenable in addition to any Government junior scholarship, the Principal of the Patna College being made the administrator of the fund. Syed Mahomed Ibrahim Hosain Khan has also offered to pay a similar sum of Rs. 2,000 for the purpose of founding a scholarship, to be called the "Lady Elliott Scholarship," in the Medical College for award to a Mahomedan female student from Behar who may pursue her studies in order to qualify for employment under the scheme framed by the "Lady Dufferin's Fund Association" for the supply of medical aid to the women of India. The donor wishes that preference should be given to a successful lady student who has joined after passing the F. A Examination, or, if there be no such student, to an Entrance-passed student in preference to others; and that, should there be no such student in any given year, the scholarship may be reserved for the next year when two scholarships may be given instead of one. If, however, there be no such students for five successive years, it is desired that the whole of the accumulated interest may be transferred to the Lady Dufferin Fund for its general purposes.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to accept both the offers on the terms mentioned, and desires that the thanks of Government be conveyed to the donor for his liberality.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for information, and to the Commissioner of Patna for information and for communication to the donor.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Letter to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 271, dated the 21st April, 1890.

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 7112, dated the 28th December, 1890.

Memorandum from the Public Works Department of this Government, No. 4206G, dated the 11th December, 1890, and its enclosures.

THE Civil Engineering College, formerly a department of the Presidency College, Calcutta, was transferred in 1880 to Sibpur, in close contiguity with the Workshops established at that place about the same time by the Public Works Department. The object which the Government had in view in thus associating the College with the Workshops was to secure the combination of manual training with class instruction, in order to qualify the students of the College in the fullest possible manner for the duties which they would afterwards have to discharge. With this view, arrangements were made for the instruction of four classes of students, namely, (1) Civil Engineers, (2) Mechanical Engineers (3) Civil Overseers, (4) Foreman Mechanics. The first two classes were to be composed of matriculated members of the University, and to be prepared, after a course of study extending over four years, for the License in Engineering (Civil or Mechanical) granted by the University. The last two classes were of a lower status, in point both of the initial qualifications demanded of the students and of the standard of instruction to be imparted to them. The students in the Foreman Mechanic class were to be apprenticed to the Executive Engineer in charge of the Workshops, and hence were known as mechanical apprentices. Every student in each of the four classes was to work for some hours a day in the shops, both during the period of his class instruction and for a certain time after its close.

2. The College opened with three classes, for the training of Civil Engineers, Civil Overseers, and Foreman Mechanics respectively. No students presented themselves, either then or afterwards, for admission to the Mechanical Engineer class, which has consequently never been opened. After two years it was found that very few students joined the Civil Overseer class, and it was accordingly decided to close it; the course of instruction in the apprentice class being at the same time so modified as to fit the pupils for employment either as overseers or as mechanics. From that date the College has consisted of two classes only, Engineers and Apprentices, all of whom have gone through the specified course of instruction, both in class and in the workshops. The number of students passing the University examinations for the License in Engineering has been comparatively small; but, on the other hand, large numbers of apprentices have left the College year by year, with certificates of competency signed by the Principal of the College and the Executive Engineer in charge. It is understood that these students have had no difficulty in obtaining remunerative employment in one or other of the many channels which private enterprise opens up to mechanical skill.

3. For several years the shops were kept in full work, and thus afforded the students ample opportunities for practical training. Of late, however, owing to a variety of causes, work has been sent to the shops in diminished quantity, and the manual instruction of the students has to that extent suffered. The diminution of work was due to conditions arising in the Public Works Department; and on the assumption that it was to be permanent, a Committee, which had been appointed under the Resolution cited in the preamble to investigate the course of study and other matters connected with the College, recommended in 1889 that the Workshops, which were not indispensable to the Public Works Department and in their existing shape were not fully suited to the practical instruction of students, should be closed altogether; the manual training of the students being provided for, after their theoretical course was over, in Railway workshops and other places affording similar opportunities of instruction.

4. To this proposal the Director of Public Instruction demurred. He regarded the proposed abolition of the shops with serious misgiving, as likely to jeopardise, if not to ruin, the mechanical apprentice class, hitherto the most important and successful of all the classes of the College. His grounds of objection were—

(a). That the period of training was too long if apprenticeship was not to begin, as under these proposals it could not begin, until the theoretical course was finished.

(b). That it was doubtful whether outside shops could provide the required number of apprenticeships, or would care to take apprentices wholly ignorant of tools.

(c) The incongruity of maintaining a technical institution for the training of mechanics without any provision for manual instruction.

Consequently, in the opinion of the Director of Public Instruction, the maintenance of the Workshops was a necessity. In a communication No. 12T—G, dated the 3rd June 1889, addressed to the Government of India, Sir Steuart Bayley expressed the doubt that he felt in regard to the essential point of providing a substitute for the present system of practical training in the Workshops. The Government of India took the same view, and in letter No. 312, dated the 13th July 1889, observed :—

"There exists in the Sibpur Workshops the nucleus of a technical institution, the value of which would be seriously affected by disassociating the practical from the theoretical training of the College. The Governor-General in Council doubts if any valid inference can be drawn from the state of the attendance rolls unfavourable to the prosecution of the experiment; and he attaches no great weight to the argument that hitherto the school has not been a financial success. He thinks the importance of the interests involved calls for perseverance in the undertaking, and he would be glad if, with a view to improving the opportunities for practical instruction afforded by the school, it were arranged that some of the work of the Public Works Department should continue to be undertaken at the Sibpur Workshops, and Local Boards and other bodies were encouraged to patronise the institution in a similar manner."

The foregoing expression of opinion is in full conformity with the views of the Lieutenant-Governor, who holds that, for the efficient training of students in the various branches of the Engineering profession, it is essential that theoretical and practical instruction should go hand-in-hand. Orders have accordingly been issued in the Public Works Department that, in future appropriations of funds for expenditure on public works, it may be arranged to send a sufficient quantity of work to the Sibpur shops, so as to keep them regularly and fully employed.

5. It has also been brought to the notice of the Lieutenant-Governor that even when the shops are kept in full work, a risk of another kind arises, such as to deprive the students of the full benefit of attendance at them. The difficulty is that a student's labour is not so useful or productive as that of a trained artisan; and hence, when the Public Works Department has a heavy piece of work to put through the shops, the students have to stand aside and look on while others do the work, instead of securing the practical advantage of taking part in it themselves. Fully impressed with the importance of that consideration, and desiring to secure to the students ample and regular opportunities of manual training, the Lieutenant-Governor has given orders for the purchase of six lathes, four shaping machines, and two planing machines, which will be reserved for the exclusive use of the students. The cost of these machines, with necessary gearing, amounts to Rs. 12,000, and this sum has been provided in the estimates for 1891-92. The machines have been purchased, and are now in process of erection in the shops. After the students have become practically familiar with the use of these tools, they will be required to take part in the general work of the shops, one apprentice at least being attached to each piece of work or each machine, either in actual charge of it or as an assistant, as the Executive Engineer may decide.

It has also been represented by the Director of Public Instruction and others that a well equipped model-room is an indispensable adjunct to the College. The erection of a building for this purpose has been sanctioned at an estimated cost of Rs. 7,153, and is now approaching completion. This will contain the smaller and more portable models, which are required among other purposes for frequent use in the free-hand drawing class; and the room has therefore been erected close alongside of the existing drawing hall, of which it forms a new wing. Estimates are also under preparation for the erection of a testing room, with necessary machinery for testing the strength and the breaking strain of materials of various kinds,—one of the most important subjects with which an Engineer has to deal. The testing-room will be so designed as to afford room for the larger models, which are only needed for occasional reference and would occupy too much space in the model-room. Orders have recently been sent to England for the purchase, through the Store Department of the India Office, of a fresh supply of drawing and engineering models.

6. Within the last two years the number of students in each department of the College has very largely increased, and there are now 273 students on the rolls, 103 of them being in the Engineer and 170 in the Apprentice classes. It has therefore become necessary to provide for more continuous and systematic instruction in the different branches of their practical work than the present staff can supply. Under existing arrangements one-third of the time of the three European foremen is supposed to be given to the instruction of students, and is accordingly paid for by the Education Department; five native instructors, who are skilled artisans in their different trades, are also employed exclusively for this work. The staff will now be strengthened by the appointment of one European and four more native instructors, whose whole time will be devoted to the practical training of the students, their salaries being charged to Education. A provision of Rs. 6,000 is also made, in the educational estimates of 1891-92, on account of the wear-and-tear of tools and the waste of materials by students while at work in the shops, at an estimated rate of Rs. 30 a year for each student. The latter charge, like that for instructors, who are artisans borne on the Public Works establishment, has been in force for some years; but the necessary adjustment has hitherto been effected by transfer-debit, after the close of each year, from the Public Works to the Education Department without previous budget provision.

7. The following statement summarises the additional expenditure sanctioned for 1891-92, under the present or other recent orders, for the better practical training of students in the Seebpore College:—

	Rs
(1) New machine-tools for the use of students ...	12,000
(2) Erection of a model-room	7,153
(3) New models from England	600
(4) One European instructor on Rs. 180—Rs. 200	2,480
(5) Five native instructors on Rs. 40—Rs 50	2,850
Total ...	25,083

This is exclusive of the new testing-room and testing-apparatus, the cost of which has yet to be furnished. It also excludes the salary, lately sanctioned by the Secretary of State for India at the rate of Rs. 300 a month, of a European head-master for the Apprentice Department, an officer who is also charged with the supervision of the Christian students' mess and with the general arrangements for the convenience and well-being of the students, all of whom, it may be noticed, are resident on the premises.

8. The Committee to which reference has already been made, and which consisted of the gentlemen named in the margin, was appointed in the first instance to revise the courses of study in the Sibpur College. After careful enquiry, the Committee recommended that the standard for admission to the Engineering Department of the College should be raised, by requiring a candidate to have passed one or other of the following tests:—

Colonel G. F. E. S. Neill, R. E., President.
Mr. M. Finucane
„ S. F. Downing.
„ F. J. E. Spring.
„ J. S. Slater.
„ J. H. Gilliland.

(1) The Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University, after obtaining not less than 40 and 50 per cent. respectively of the marks assigned to English and Mathematics. With this qualification the candidate must be under 19 years of age.

(2) The F.A. examination of the Calcutta University; the candidate's age being under 21 years.

(3) The B.A. examination in the B Course; the candidate's age being under 23 years.

The Committee further proposed that scholarships should be so distributed as to attract students of the highest attainments; and the Director of Public Instruction considered that this object could best be secured by awarding the ten special scholarships, reserved for students on admission to the College, to the following classes of students in order:—(1) Bachelors of Art who have taken up the B Course; (2) candidates who have passed the First Arts Examination; (3) other candidates according to the number of marks gained in English and Mathematics jointly.

These recommendations were sanctioned in Government order No. 271, dated the 21st April 1890.

9. The failure of the majority of the College students at the examination for their degree was the cause which more immediately led to the institution of this enquiry; and in order that those who were unsuccessful at that ordeal might still obtain some acknowledgment of the extent to which they had prosecuted their studies, the Committee recommended that the Principal of the College should be authorised to hold a final College examination of the students of the Engineer class, and to issue certificates of proficiency in the theoretical course, similar to those which are granted to students of the apprentice class. The holders of these certificates, whether they obtained a degree or not, would afterwards be put through the full course of manual instruction and practical training prescribed for the Engineer class. It is stated in the report that—

"The Committee considers that all students of the Engineer class, in common with those of other classes, who have gone through a full course of instruction, ought to be furnished with certificates of having done so. Under the rules now in force, a student of the Engineer class, who fails in the University examinations, has not only nothing to show for the four years' theoretical training he has undergone, but he is barred from going through the course of practical training, which, notwithstanding his failure in taking a degree, would undoubtedly add to the value of the theoretical training he has received at the College. The Committee therefore recommends that the Principal of the College be authorised to hold a final College examination of the students of the Engineer class, and to issue certificates similar in character to those which are granted to students of other classes of the institution. The holders of these certificates, whether they obtain a degree or not, should also, in the opinion of the Committee, be put through the full course of manual instruction and practical training which is recommended for this class."

This proposal, which has received the support of the Director of Public Instruction, is now sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Of three minor suggestions made by the Committee, that which regards the charges made for the rent of students' quarters has been disposed of by orders issued in July 1888, and sanction is now accorded to the payment of the travelling expenses of students engaged on surveying and similar work, as also to the publication of an annual calendar for the College.

The erection of a separate hospital building for the treatment of sick students was also included in the recommendations of the Committee; and designs with this object are now being prepared by the Public Works Department in consultation with the Civil Surgeon of Howrah, who is in medical charge of the College.

10. The Committee has put forward certain proposals which require the sanction of the Calcutta University, namely—

(1) That B.A. students on joining the College be admitted to the second-year class, with certain remissions in the subjects in which they have to be examined.

(2) That the first of the two examinations now held by the University, before conferring on Engineer students the degree of B.E. or L.E., be abolished.

(3) That the course of study indicated in Appendix A to the Committee's report be adopted. It admits of the reduction of the period of study from four years to three, by the omission of some branches of the higher mathematics and of mineralogy and metallurgy, as not being indispensable for the general education of Engineers.

These recommendations also command the support of Sir Alfred Croft, who has undertaken, with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor, to commend them to the favourable consideration of the Senate. In view, however, of the probable development of the mining industry in Bengal, the Director of Public Instruction will also be requested to suggest to the University the introduction of an alternative course for Mining Engineers, a subject which in another connexion has already attracted the Lieutenant-Governor's attention.

11. In regard to the present arrangement, according to which Engineering students are instructed simultaneously in the theoretical and practical portions of their profession, it is stated in the report of the Committee that—

"The system of combining practical work in the shops with an advanced theoretical training has now been tried for eight years, and has not been found to be superior to the old system, where workshop practice followed the theoretical studies. The combination is irksome to the students, and has been found to interfere with their private studies. Four hours in the lecture-room and three hours of manual work in the shops, with about a couple of hours extra for drawing, is the average daily work. This taxes the energies of the students, and it is scarcely to be wondered at that some of them neglect to spend, as they should do if they wish to keep up with the lectures, a couple of hours a day in writing up their notes and preparing for the lectures of the following day. This combination of theory and practice also necessitates spreading the course over four years, whereas a shorter period would be sufficient if the theoretical and manual courses were separated."

The Committee has accordingly proposed to postpone the manual course for Engineering students until the theoretical course has been completed. The Director of Public Instruction has approved this proposal so far as it affects the Engineering classes. The Lieutenant-Governor attaches great weight to the reasons by which it is supported, and directs that the change be now carried out. In the apprentice classes the combination of shop-work with class-instruction will still be maintained; but, in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee, the mathematical and science subjects will be to some extent simplified, so as to allow the apprentices more time for study.

12. In accordance with the foregoing orders, the distribution of the time spent by Engineer students and apprentices in the class-room and in the shops will now be revised as follows:—

(1) For Engineer students the theoretical course will, with the consent of the University, be reduced from four years to three, during which they will be excused from manual work. The fourth year they will spend exclusively in the workshops; subject to the alternative that a certain number of them who may be willing to go may be drafted, after a preliminary course of six months in the use of tools, to one or other of the railway workshops at Kanchrapara, Saidpur, and Samastipur, where they will get opportunities of seeing newer machinery and a larger scale of work than will generally be possible at Sibpur. In the fifth year the students will, as now, be deputed to brick-making at Akra or to works in progress, under the orders of the Public Works Department.

(2) For the apprentices the earlier term of combined class-instruction and shop-work will continue to occupy three and a half years; while the final period of a year and a half will be spent in shop-work exclusively. It will be understood that surveying is taught very throughly to all these students as a part of their preliminary course, so that they will also be qualified for subordinate appointments in the Public Works Department; and the final certificates issued to apprentices on passing out at the close of their five years' course will specify that qualification.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor attaches very great importance to the maintenance of the College at the highest possible point of efficiency. He considers that the increase of the number of young men trained to engineering pursuits, and qualified by their training to develope the resources of the province, is an object on which he is justified in incurring large outlay, since he is confident that all such outlay will be fully reproductive. It has given him much satisfaction to find that the results of the University Examinations in recent years have shown considerable improvement, brought about apparently by a better understanding between the examiners and the students to be examined. Under existing orders one and two appointments in the grade of Assistant Engineer are reserved in alternate years for students of the Sibpur College who qualify at the University Examinations, and who afterwards show satisfactory progress when posted on probation to public works. The Lieutenant-Governor is also prepared to guarantee that four appointments in the Upper Subordinate grade of the Public Works Department shall annually be given to qualified students of the College who have graduated in Engineering at the Calcutta University, and successfully passed the subsequent period of practical training. He also accepts the recommendation of the Committee that the students of the College who, without having passed the University Examination in Engineering, have passed the final College examination, and have also gone through the subsequent two years' course of practical instruction, should be declared qualified for employment as District Engineers, provided they have been employed on Engineering works for not less than five years, exclusive of the time spent in their practical course and hold satisfactory certificates of good conduct and efficiency during such employment.

The foregoing remarks apply principally to students of the Engineer Department. But the apprentice classes constitute a department of at least equal value; and the extension of railways and other public works, coupled with the present and probable development of private enterprise in various branches of manufacture, is likely to afford abundant opportunities of remunerative employment to students of this useful class. The Lieutenant-Governor looks forward to the time when District and Municipal Boards will devote a portion of their funds, as they have already done and are doing in several instances, to the establishment and maintenance of local technical schools. The shops at Sibpur will be able, as soon as their own requirements in this direction are fully met, to give valuable assistance to such projects by manufacturing and supplying to local schools, at a cheap rate, the various machines and other tools which they will require. It is also hoped that local scholarships may be established, so as to enable promising pupils of such schools to proceed to Sibpur for further and better training. In these ways it is hoped that the Sibpur College will attain to its true position as the centre of genuine technical education in Bengal; and when once its character in that line is fully established, it will be in a position to take up various branches of special industry, and by imparting to students some knowledge of the special principles and mechanical processes that underlie each, to develope and assist such industries in many useful ways. The report that Mr. Collin has recently furnished supplies much necessary information as to the existing industries of Bengal, and it will be for the Education Department and the College authorities to ascertain how far it may be possible to promote their development or to avert their extinction.

14. The proposal made by the Committee at page 20 of the report, to appoint Lecturers on Agriculture and Agricultural Chemistry and Botany, with the object of training students for the callings of managers, of private or Wards' estates, or Tahsildars in tracts under Government management, is under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor and will be separately dealt with.

15. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his acknowledgments to the members of the Committee for their careful report, and particularly to Mr. Spring, whose valuable papers on the Sibpur College and on technical education generally have been of very great service to the Lieutenant-Governor in arriving at a settlement of this important question.

IRRIGATION OPERATIONS FOR KHARIF, 1890-91.

No. 668*I.*

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 15th April 1891.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Statements Nos. I, II, and III of irrigation operations of canals in Bengal during the kharif season of 1890-91.

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated during the kharif season of 1890-91 was 485,875 acres against 505,602 acres in 1889-90, showing a decrease of 3·9 per cent.

2. On the Sone Canals the falling off was 29,769 acres; and on the Orissa Canals 1,030 acres. These results are a natural consequence of the heavier rainfall on both systems. On the other hand, the quantity of rain registered in stations on the Midnapore Canal was 4·65 inches less than that of the previous year; and there is a corresponding increase of 11,072 acres in the area irrigated.

3. The increase or decrease in the irrigation from each Canal is given in the following statement:—

Canals.	Kharif season.		More.	Less.
	1889-90.	1890-91.
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Orissa ... Taldunda	39,641	41,183	1,542	.....
Orissa ... Kendrapara	99,243	97,761	.....	1,482
Orissa ... High Level, Range I
Orissa ... Ditto, Ranges II and III ...	41,846	40,756	.....	1,090
Midnapore Canal	68,370	79,442	11,072	.....
Sone ... Patna	52,722	54,172	1,450	.....
Sone ... Arrah	125,672	114,667	.....	11,005
Sone ... Buxar	75,424	56,398	.....	19,026
Sarun Canal	2,684	1,496	.....	1,188
Total ...	505,602	485,875	14,064	33,791

4. The only kharif crop irrigated on the Orissa and Midnapore Canals is rice whilst the returns of the Sone Canals include sugarcane and hot-weather crops. The steadiness shown by the returns in a year of favourable rainfall is due to the prevalence of long-term leases on all the Canal systems of the Province.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the Statements Nos. I, II, and III be submitted to the Government of India, in the Public Works Department, for information.

Also that copies be forwarded to the Commissioners of the Orissa, Burdwan, and Patna Divisions; the Collectors of Cuttack, Midnapore, Patna, Shahabad, Gya, and Sarun; the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, and Sone Circles; and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. ODLING,

Offg. Joint-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.
